County's Tax Rate Estimate Revised Upward To $2.456

Marin Aides Report Income Guesses High

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Marin County supervisors, opening hearings on the $25.9 million budget proposed for fiscal 1967, were jolted today by a revised estimate for the tax needs which would call for a rate of $2.456.

This is 6.5 cents over the rate estimated in the preliminary budget submitted to supervisors, and up 27.1 cents above this year's $2.185.

Conuty Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell told supervisors that fund balances are under original estimates and that some departments, particularly the county building department, have brought in less revenue through permit fees than expected.

Supervisors opened the budget session with several general observations by themselves and by the public.

SUBMITS PETITION

Mrs. Dee V. Carniglia of 137 Hillside Avenue, Fairfax, submitted a petition signed by 1,073 Fairfax area residents, protesting against "the proposed confiscatory property tax level in Marin County" and asking supervisors to curtail spending.

Paul A. Hammer of 156 Morningside Drive, San Anselmo, urged the board to control increases in assessments. He said that taxing districts do not consider increased assessments in setting tax rates.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss agreed that many small districts will increase a proposed budget to meet increases in revenue after discovering that assessments are up.

NO CONTROL

As with previous budget hearings, supervisors said they cannot control many expenses in the budget because they are required under state laws, referring to welfare and the courts. They said the county budget requires 25 per cent of the property tax, the rest being for school and other special districts and the cities.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he will urge a vote in November on a $10 million bond issue for capital projects.

Pair Declared Guilty In Labor Day Murder

Jack R. Gorman and Mark C. Osuna were found guilty today of the murder of Mission Inn bartender Mario Ferrari last Labor Day.

The case went to the jury of five men and seven women at 10:50 a.m. Their verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree was reached after 75 minutes of deliberations.

The jury was scheduled by Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating to start hearing the penalty phase of the trial at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales has said he will ask the death penalty for both.

Judge Thomas F. Keating ruled out the possibility of a finding of second degree murder in his instructions. He told the jurors, "The evidence shows the defendants are either innocent of the charge, or are guilty of murder in the first degree."

He called one prosecution witness, Harold Frank Percell, an accomplice in the Mission Inn robbery, and said his testimony must be weighed with caution.

Percell had testified in the four-week trial that he was present when the robbery was planned and served as a lookout during its execution.

Four other witnesses were called accomplices by defense attorney Thomas P. Boyd in closing arguments Friday. Named were Noreen Michaels, Billie Tierney, Betty Wright and Ligia Pino.

As to whether these women were accomplices, the jury must use its own judgment in considering their testimony, Keating said.

Since Osuna, 30, and Gorman, 36, are found guilty, their penalty trial will follow before the same jury of five men and seven women. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales has said he will ask for the death penalty.

Mercury Due To Reach New High For Year

Yesterday's temperatures throughout Marin County were the highest to date this year, but temperatures today at noon were reaching toward another high.

Yesterday's high in San Rafael was 92 degrees, up 16 degrees over Saturday's noon temperatures of 76 degrees. The temperature at noon today in San Rafael was 90.

High temperatures around the county yesterday ranged from 93 degrees in Novato to 68 degrees in Tamalpais Valley. The high at Hamilton Air Force Base was 91.

The only temperatures approaching these this year were high in San Rafael of 91 on May 2 and 90 on April 15.

The warm weather, combined with the bus strike, produced a record for traffic crossing the Golden Gate Bridge—94,109 cars yesterday. The previous record was set Aug. 1, 1965, when 90,462 cars used the bridge. Bridge officials said the traffic load was carried without incident.

The high temperatures and low humidity are expected to continue through tomorrow. This combination touched off a rash of forest and brush fires in Northern California.

Ablaze which has blackened 5,000 acres in Lake County was still out of control today. A brush fire near Oroville burned more than 1,000 acres and destroyed one home. In Butte County, 22 fires broke out during the weekend. A blaze burned more than 450 acres in Bidsell Park near Chico.

Turning Point Near In War, LBJ Aides Say

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) —High administration officials believe expanding U.S. combat operations in Viet Nam may hasten a turning point in the war against Communist conquest in South Viet Nam.

A new tone of optimism is apparent in official comment here, although it is not universally shared. Some highly placed officials fear that the military gains now being registered may be frustrated by new political violence in South Viet Nam or by some strategic shift on the part of Communist forces.

However the dominant administration line as developed primarily by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and apparently supported by Secretary of State Dean Rusk is that political turmoil among the South Vietnamese this spring had caused only temporary — even though serious — setbacks to the anti-Communist fight and "substantial military progress" has been made in recent weeks.

In a joint news conference with Rusk at the White House Saturday, McNamara also told reporters that offensive operations by the United States, South Vietnamese and allied forces had frustrated plans of the Communist high command for a "monsoon offensive."

Other officials indicate that the total amount of damage which allied forces are now able to inflict on Communist forces is almost in balance with the gains which the Communists are able to make by way of infiltration of troops from North Viet Nam and recruitment in the south.

Administration officials have claimed that in the first four months of this year — January through April —the North Vietnamese sent 19,000 men through the jungle roads and trails into South Viet Nam — an average of about 4,700 a month. In the same period about 14,000 fighters are estimated to have been added to Viet Cong forces through recruitment in the

New Saigon Strife; Viet MIG Downed

SAIGON (UPI) —About 500 Buddhist monks and nuns waving banners reading "Kill us" were turned back today by tear gas wielding police in three attempts to march on the Saigon central market. More than 1,000 shouting youths later staged an even bigger anti-government demonstration.

The monks and nuns were scattered by a barrage of tear gas hurled by the police, the youths, inflamed by the sight of a number of injured clerics, then raced toward the center of the city where truckloads of police and troops were waiting to disperse them. Some were arrested and ordered inducted into the armed forces.

CEREMONY OFF

The demonstration came following an unsuccessful attempt to hold a ceremony at the Vien Hoa Dao Pagoda today to protest U. S. support of the military government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu.

Thich Phap Tri invited U. S. and South Vietnamese officials to the pagoda to receive a "gift," but both American and government officials declined on grounds they were "too busy."

Tri had hoped to present 20 U. S.-made gas grenades to the Americans as symbols of opposition to U. S. support of the "oppressive military government."

PLASTIC BAGS

The demonstrators came prepared with small plastic bags to put over their heads in an effort to withstand effects of the tear gas barrages. Twice they regrouped and attempted to continue their march but were dispersed each time.

Elsewhere helicopters and avenging U. S. paratroopers swarmed into the jungle hideout of a North Vietnamese regiment today after B-52's softened up the encircled Communists with hundreds of tons of bombs in what officials described as "one of the largest" raids of the war.

The bloody one-two punch was aimed at annihilating the battered remnants of the North Vietnamese force—perhaps up to 1,200—men which remained after five days of vicious fighting against troops of the 101st Airborne Division in hhe highlands about 300 miles north of Saigon.

Officials said the estimated Communist death toll in the wildly swirling fighting already has soared to 762 with a conficmed body count of 365 and perhaps hundreds more bodies lying in the jungle.

Meantime, the air war over North Viet Nam picked up today with two U. S. planes shot down. Officials also disclosed a Navy F4C Crusader pilot shot down one Communist MIG-17 Sunday and possibly another in a dogfight 31 miles north of the maine Communist port of Hai Phong. Commander Hal L. Marr, 40, of Roseburg, Ore., whose wife and three children live in San Diego, was flying protective cover for other warplanes raiding military targets near the big port when the MIGs rose to challenge him. He and his wingman, Lt. (JG) Phillip Vampatella, 26, of Islip Terrace, New York, whirled to intercept them.

Marr brought down one of the MIGs with a heat-seeking Sidewinder missile and

County Library Aide Wounded; Gun Is Missing

An assistant county librarian was in fair condition today with a gunshot wound which sheriff's deputies said reportedly was accidental—yet was fired from a gun they could not find.

Morris Coleman of Richmond, an assistant at the county library in the Marin Civic Center, was under care at Marin General Hospital.

Sheriff's deputies reported they were still searching for the gun which caused the wound while Coleman was visiting his estranged wife at 151 Drake Avenue, Marin City Saturday.

Coleman told Sheriff's Deputy Foster Hines he had gone downstairs with the gun in his rear pocket. He said he bumped into a table and the gun discharged.

A search of the house did not produce the gun, which Coleman said he was taking in his car to Lake County. He was wounded in the small of the back.

Measure Introduced On Blocking Of Dams

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to enlarge the Grand Canyon National Park to include the sites of both Bridge and Marble Canyon dams was introduced in Congress today by Rep. Jeffery Sohelan, D-Calif. (See story on possibility of taxing Sierra Club, page 19).

Cohelan said the purpose of the bill is to block construction of both dams, proposed as part of the Lower Colorado River Water Development Project.

"The bill would include both the Marble Gorge and Bridge Canyon dam sites within the park and would make the construction of either dam incompatible with the preservation of the natural character of the park," Cohelan said in a statement.

He said there is an urgent need for a regional water development plan in the Pacific Southwest, "but the dams are not essential for the success of such a plan and they clearly would damage a priceless natural resource."

Temperature Rises In City

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The temperature hit 92 at 11:35 a.m. today in San Francisco, far outstripping the old June 13 record of 82 set back in 1874. The old mark fell earlier in the morning.

A layer of smog spread over the Bay Area.

Oakland's fire chief, James Sweeney, ordered a ban on open burning until further notice because of the hot, dry conditions.

The forecast was for a continuance of the heat at least through tomorrow.

Magnifying Glass Blamed For Blaze

ATHERTON (AP) — An 8-year-old Atherton boy learned what a magnifying glass can do to the sun's rays and it cost his parents $50,000.

George Leong Jr., left a magnifying glass in an ashtray in his bedroom yesterday. It focused the sun's rays on some scraps of paper, ignited them, and the flames spread throughout the $75,000 home at 89 Tellwood.

Swedish Weapon Embargo Hinted

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Munitions trade sources say the Swedish government has turned down repeated United States requests to buy Swedish arms and ammunition for the use of American forces in Viet Nam.

Harvard Prof. John Galbraith, former U.S. ambassador to India, said yesterday in Providence, R.I.

"Sweden . . . has thought so little of our (Viet Nam) policy that she has imposed an arms embargo—a quarantine — upon us."

There has been no official confirmation of the reports in Washington or Stockholm.

Prices Head Up

SAIGON (AP)—The price of beer and soft drinks in Viet Nam went up between 24 and 50 per cent today. The new prices were announced by the government, which estimates that the cost of living has gone up 55 per cent in the past year.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Khrushchev, Molotov At Polls

MOSCOW (AP) — Two fallen leaders—Nikita Khrushchev and V. M. Molotov—were among the voters yesterday as the usual big turnout elected the unopposed candidates for the Soviet Parliament.

Khrushchev

Khrushchev, 72, thinner and more subdued than in his last public appearance 15 months ago, smiled as he cast his ballot for the man who replaced him as premier, Alexei N. Kosygin.

"Yes, I've been ill," Khrushchev told newsmen, "but everyone gets ill now and then." The former premier and Communist party chief was hospitalized last summer for kidney trouble.

Khrushchev's appearance at a Moscow polling booth was clearly arranged by Communist officials to show the world that he is alive and healthy—unlike the victims of Stalin's purges.

Molotov, 76, former premier and foreign minister under Stalin, also surfaced from obscurity to vote at another Moscow polling station. Once know for his granite visage at international conferences, he was smiling as he left the station with his wife.

Major Timber Fire Rages

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—A major brush and timber fire, touched off by the crash of a private airplane, had blackened 25,000 acres in Los Padres National Forest today and burned on in two directions.

More than 1,500 firefighters, including Navy personnel from Point Mugu Air Station, battled the searing flames on the ground and thousands of gallons of chemicals were dropped from aircraft. Another 500 Indian smoke jumpers from Arizona and New Mexico were expected to parachute into the virtually inaccessible fire area today.

The battle to contain the fire was hampered by temperatures in the 90s, brisk winds and tinder dry brush.

The U.S. Forest Service said it was impossible to determine when the blaze might be contained.

Bombay Commute Trains In India's Worst Crash Yet

BOMBAY (AP) — At least 100 Indians were feared killed today and 120 injured when two suburban trains jammed with commuters crashed together in a Bombay suburb.

Five hours after the early morning collision, railway officials announced 52 bodies had been counted and there were 106 injured so far.

Traffic on the city's railways, which carry two million persons daily, was disrupted while doctors, firemen and police struggled through the wreckage to rescue trapped commuters. Each train reportedly carried more than 1,500 passengers.

Firemen used blowtorches to cut their way into twisted aluminum coaches in which men, women and schoolchildren were trapped.

The accident was thought to be the worst in western India's rail history. It occurred near a grade crossing north of Matunga Station, nine miles from Victoria Station in downtown Bombay.

The impact sent the first three cars of one train off the tracks.

Soon after the collision another suburban train running on a track nearby was stopped by irate spectators who objected to its motorman trying to speed through. The motorman was injured by the stone-throwing crowd, which police controlled with difficulty. Some police were injured.

The motormen of the two crashed locomotives escaped injury, though one was thrown out of the train.

Redwood Park Hearing Due 60 Witnesses

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 60 persons have asked to be heard at a Senate subcommittee hearing on the proposed redwood national park Friday and Saturday in Crescent City.

Announcing this today, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., senior Republican on the Senate Interior Committee, said it will be necessary to restrict oral statements to approximately five minutes each.

The witness list includes state and local government officials, representatives of lumber and sportsmen's groups and individuals interested in the proposed new park in the California coast redwoods area.

The hearing will be conducted by the Parks and Recreation subcommittee headed by Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev.

Kuchel urged witnesses to submit their statements in writing and limit oral appearances to a summarization of their views. He said statements also will be received from persons unable to appear personally.

"I hope these field hearings will provide a sound basis for acting quickly and wisely on the redwoods park proposal," Kuchel said in a statement.

He said further testimony will be received by the subcommittee later in Washington.

Reds Divided On Control Of Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — Warsaw Pact nations are reported seriously divided over Romanian demands that each member have a greater voice in decisions of the Soviet-dominated alliance.

Informed East European sources said yesterday that the foreign ministers have extended their meeting here. They began a week ago and originally were expected to end last Wednesday.

In East Berlin, the Warsaw Pact commander and defense ministers from the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany met yesterday to discuss "mutually interesting questions," the official East German news agency ADN reported.

Two Ministers Change Places

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two Episcopal and Presbyterian congregations exchanged ministers yesterday for communion services. Churchmen said it was the first such exchange in American history.

The Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California, changed places with the Rev. Dr. Carl G. Howie of Cavary Presbyterian Church. Bishop Pike's church is Grace Cathedral.

"This indeed is a great day, a long-anticipated day," Bishop Pike told 150 Presbyterian worshippers. Each man delivered his denomination's communion service.

It was the time "to recognize that we are one, to get with it in the ecumenical movement," the bishop said. The real value is "to be at home with one another, to be at home in one another's homes."

He said church unity does not mean churches will do all things the same way—as he described his church's "quaint" Elizabethan English services and clerical robes.

"God doesn't care about the differences, external things are not basic to God," Bishop Pike remarked.

At Grace Cahtedral, Dr. Howie said:

"It is time that Episcopalians and Presbyterians put aside liturgical form and doctrinal tradition and meet one another at a common table in the church and common service in the world. . . This step by two great churches gives promise that we may become an ever greater church together in the future."

Torrents Kill 51 In Crown Colony

HONG KONG (AP) — At least 89 persons were feared dead in the wake of a torrential storm yesterday that set off mud and rock slides throughout the hilly island colony.

Three thousand rescue workers have recovered 51 bodies from the debris. Search headquarters said 16 more were buried and presumed dead, and another 22 missing and feared lost.

Police, fireman and troops searched valleys filled with mud and rocks by the 14-inch deluge that lashed Hong Kong for 15 hours.

Parking Meter Idea Started In Oklahoma

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The idea for parking meters came from C. C. Magee, an editor on the Oklahoma News of Oklahoma City, in the 1930s, says the National Automobile Club.

The first models of Magee's brainstorm, quickly dubbed "snitching posts," were installed on Oklahoma City streets in 1935.

Methodists Pass Budget Of $2 Million

STOCKTON (AP) —The California-Nevada Methodist Conference ended yesterday with the appointment of 395 ministers to conference churches.

Bishop Donald H. Tippett said the six-day conference attracted more than 700 ministers and laymen. Delegates approved a $2 million budget for the coming year.

Bishop Tippett reported Methodists in the two states donated more than $12 million last year, an average of $93.17 for the 130,788 members.

Dr. D. Clifford Crummey was appointed director of urban work a new staff position. J. Allen Walker was named first executive officer of the California-Nevada Methodist Foundation.

During the conference, delegates voted strong backing for the california Migrant Ministry and resolved that Methodist Church construction contracts must include non-discriminatory hiring clauses.

The conference also said the United States should withdraw militarily from Viet Nam when "neutral nations and Vietnamese civilians are prepared to guarantee peace."

$1,100 Still Is Missing In Bolinas Utility Fund

The Marin County Auditor's office has been unable to find about $1,100 which, according to reconstructed records, should be on deposit for the Bolinas Beach Public Utilities District.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said 300 letters would be sent today to water customers in the district in an attempt to confirm billing records since last September.

Former district secretary Jacque Gianola was fired by district directors last month after they discovered she had made no deposit with the county treasurer since September.

Since then, $6,366.48, including $29.51 in cash, was gathered at the district office and at Mrs. Gianola's home and deposited. But Mitchell said today it appears that $1,100 is still unaccounted for.

Ronald D. Schenck, attorney for thed istrict, and John S. Lancaster, president of the board. Meanwhile issued a statement saying board is fully aware of its responsibility and was misled only by the trust put in Mrs. Gianola.

The statment said she led directors to believe that books had been sent Mitchell in October for the regular yearly audit, when in fact they had not.

Schenck and Lancaster also said Mrs. Giarola, in her monthly reports to board meetings, had listed funds as deposited with the county treasurer each month, although the deposits had not been made.

The statement questioned Mitchell's threat to turn the matter over to the grand jury and disrict attorney if he did not get cooperation in his audit.

In a letter to Mitchell Schenck said it is up to directors themselves to decide if investigation by the district attorney should be asked.

"The only person from whom cooperation has not been forthcoming is Mrs. Gianola," said the statement by Schenck and Lancaster.

Schenck reported he had conferred with Leonard Shaw, assistant district attorney, and Shaw had agreed the case should not be reviewed by his office until Mitchell's audit is completed.

Mitchell said he will await replies to the letters to water customers before completing the audit.

south. The gross gain from the two sources totaled about 33,000.

For the same period of four months more than 16,000 Communist fighters are reported to have been killed in action with other thousands wounded, captured or defected to South Viet Nam. U.S. officials estimate that Communist losses from all these sources totaled more than 30,000 and that even with errors in all statistics, the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese total gains and total losses must be approaching a point of balance.

They regard this as an important measure of progress because a critical point in the war, from the administration view, is expected to be reached when Viet Cong and North Vietnamese losses exceed their infiltration and recruitment rate.

Johnson administration leaders have hoped that such a point might be reached early next year. Some now wonder whether it may develop more rapidly, depending on both military and political developments in South Viet Nam.

McNamara disclosed Saturday that 18,000 more American troops will go to Viet Nam in the next 45 days, raising the total of U.S. forces in the south to 285,000.

President Johnson decides on reinforcements from time to time. McNamara's plans call for another 100,000 or more men to go into the country on the assumption that infiltration from the north will continue, probably at an increasing rate.

The total by the end of the year is expected to be close to 400,000 American troops in South Viet Nam. But the orders to go to that level have not been given by the President.

Implicit in this situation is the U.S. willingness to reduce or withhold reinforcements if the Communists reduce or halt infiltration. But officials said there has been no evidence that the Communists intended to do anything other than pursue the conflict.

Officials reported that almost all the U.S. reinforcements now going in would add to combat strength in the field rather than to base security and logistical operations.

One Communist response to the growing aggressiveness of the U.S. and allied forces, officials believe, may be to avoid contact as much as possible, to hold positions in the deep jungle and prolong the struggle indefinitely.

Search Dropped For Marin Men

The Coast Guard has abandoned its search for two San Rafael men missing since Wednesday in a 36-foot fishing boat.

Still missing are Art Hansen, 32, of 555 Canal Street and Jerry Jones, 20, of 1893 Lincoln Avenue. The Coast Guard received a call from their boat, the "Guard," Wednesday night at 10 p.m. reporting engine trouble and giving the boat's position as half-way between Point Reyes and Farallones.

A Coast Guard spokesman today said the search was discontinued at 9:25 a.m. Saturday after it covered the area between Point Reyes and Pescadero without finding any trace of the boat or men.

PHILIP F. WHITMER
Takes San Rafael pulpit

Rev. Baldwin Appointed To Napa Church

Rev. Donald H. Baldwin, pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Rafael for seven years, was appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church of Napa yesterday, and was to begin his duties thre today.

Dr. Philip F. Whitmer will replace Rev. Baldwin as pastor of the San Rafael church. Rev. Whitmer has just arrived in San Rafael from Evanston, Ill., where he was an instructor in preaching at Garrett Theological Seminary.

Rev. Erwin C. Tipton, pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Rafael from 1942 to 1946, and first pastor of the Novato Community Methodist Church from 1955 to 1957, is retiring from the ministry. He has lived at 25 Sunset Way, San Rafael since 1942, and was pastor of the Caruthers First Methodist Church in Caruthers when he retired Saturday.

Baldwin, asked how he feels about leaving San Rafael, said he is "happy to go and sorry to leave." He said his wife lived at 111 Tamal Vista Drive, San Rafael.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from Intermountain Union College of Helena, Mont., and his bachelor of sacred theology degree from the Boston University School of Theology. He was director of Methodist student work at Stanford University for three years, served pastorates at Merced and Campbell, and was district supervisor for the Redwood Empire District Methodist Church from 1953 to 1956.

From 1956 to 1959 he was executive secretary of the Conference Board of Evangelism for Northern California, and lived in San Bruno. He moved from San Bruno to San Rafael in 1959.

His wife taught in the Fairfax School District for eight years.

Mrs. Dettner Asks Divorce

Sausalito socialite Shirley Dettner filed for divorce today from her husband, printing company executive Arthur G. Dettner Jr., in Marin County Superior Court, charging cruelty.

Mrs. Dettner, 39, who is the former model Shirley Sherritt, and her 43-year-old husband were married in San Francisco in 1956 and separated this month. There are no children of the marriage.

Her husband is an executive of Dettner's Printing House, San Francisco.

The family home is at 60 Toyon Lane, Sausalito. Mrs. Dettner is asking for equal division of the property, together with her husband's unknown assets.

Superior Court Judge Thomas S. Keating ordered Dettner to show cause at court June 22 at 2 p.m. why he should not pay his wife temporary alimony.

In November 1964, Mrs. Detner filed a complaint for separate maintenance but the couple reconciled before the case came to court.

BUDGET

a proposal earlier discussed by the board.

Supervisors agreed on a resolution asking County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to prepare legislation for next session of the legislature that would produce relief for the property owner, presumably shifting the burden to sales and income taxes to be levied by the state.

Melvin J. Rupp of the Marin County Property Owners Assn. told the board the complexities of government have made it nearly impossible for the average citizen to understand the budget.

He called for more effort in getting information to the public and declared the only "coordinating force" in getting information to the public is the Independent-Journal.

"This alone is not enough," he said.

Later in the day, supervisors began going through the budget department by department, spending all afternoon on welfare (department of public social services).

Supervisors will hold a regular session tomorrow and start on the budget again Wednesday, taking up the department of public works, special districts controlled by the board, capital improvements, and the county airport, in that order.

Proprietor Jailed For Noisy Pub

Eric Hodgman, proprietor of Tiburon's Prince Charlie Inn, was arrested by sheriff's deputies yesterday on a citizen's complaint that his pub is too noisy.

Hodgman, 41, was booked in county jail at 7:55 p.m. on a charge of disturbing the peace signed by John G. McChesney of 1875 Mountain View Drive. Hodgman was released on $110 bail for hearing Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

The Prince Charlie Inn at 1704 Tiburon Boulevard features live rock 'n' roll music. It has been the subject of numerous complaints of noise by residents, according to Lt. George R. Barnes of the Tiburon sheriff's substation. Barnes said he received 10 complaints last week, and had repeatedly warned Hodgman about the noise.

Hodgman faces an alcoholic beverage control examiner's hearing Monday at 9 a.m. in Del Mar School, Tiburon, on citizen complaints about his bar.

Five Children Removed In Neglect Case

Novato police took five children from a Novato home and placed them in foster homes yesterday because of what they termed filthy conditions and neglect.

A sixth child was left with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. DeNelson Albert Durr of 25 Gertrude Lane.

Police went to the home in response to a neighbor's report that a 10-year-old son of the Durrs had been shooting firearms inside the city limits.

The officers reported they found the house "a mess of human filth . . . insufficient food . . . dirty clothing all over the house."

The oldest child, a 15-year-old daughter, told police her parents had left for the weekend, taking her 5-year-old sister with them. Police took the five children left in the house — the youngest an 18-month old baby—and placed them in foster homes.

Durr is a former San Francisco policeman. Novato police said he had been discharged from the force for drunkenness.

Three Bodies Found In Crashed Plane

The body of Lt. Cmdr. David B. White of Mill Valley was found Saturday in his crashed plane on the shore of a remote lake in the Sierra Nevada. He and two other Naval Air Reserve men had been missing since a training flight off Monterey Jan. 16.

Two weekend fishermen who hiked into the Desolation Valley area northeast of Placerville on horseback made the discovery Saturday, the Associated Press reported.

The two-engine trainer aircraft had been the object of 285 search sorties in January and February. The three men were members of Reserve Anti-Submarine Squadron 872 at Alameda Naval Air Station.

Placerville County sheriff's officers, who lifted the bodies out by helicopter, said the wreckage was probably concealed by snowdrifts during the winter.

The inside of the plane had burned, deputies said, but the outside had not, indicating the plane probably crashed into a heavy snowdrift.

White's companions on the flight were Lt. Ronald C. Dayton, 32, of Concord, and Aviation Electrionics Mate Robert K. Palmer, 28, of Sacramento.

Both White and Dayton were pilots for United Air Lines.

Cmdr. Bain Allen, of Alameda Naval Air Station, said today the cause of the crash is still a mystery. Visibility in that mountainous region at about the 9,000 foot level was excellent the day of the crash, he reported.

White, 36, of 2 St. Jude Road, Mill Valley, was a first officer with United Air Lines flying DC-8 jets. He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth; two sons, Stephen, 9, and Christopher, 6, and a daughter, Anne, 5, all of Mill Valley, and his parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. B. White of Vermillion, Ohio.

Mrs. Gandhi May Visit Russ

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi is planning a trip soon to Moscow, her press secretary announced today.

Her talks with Soviet leaders reportedly will deal with Soviet misgivings about Mrs. Gandhi's economic policies, which has included attracting private American investors rather than concentrating on the "public sector" in India's mixed economy.

The Soviet Union and its economic aid—about a billion dollars committed thus far—play an important role in India's economic planning.

Kansas, Missouri Watch For Severe Thunderstorms

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A severe thunderstorm watch was in effect today in eastern Kansas and west central Missouri while Alma, now only a tropical storm, sprayed rain up the coast to New England.

Wet skies and gusty winds prevailed from the southern fringe of the Great Lakes to the Southern Plains.

Bright skies and warm temperatures covered most of the East and Far West.

Thunderstorms yesterday flooded the Little Blue and Blue rivers in Kansas City, where 5 inches of rain was reported. Several residents in low areas adjacent to the swollen waters were forced to leave their homes.

Heavy rains fell in those areas of Kansas and Missouri where tornadoes have been active since Wednesday. Several funnel clouds darted over the Plains Sunday but there were no reports of damage.

North central Texas was ripped by winds measured at 85 miles per hour. The side of a building was blown in at Hamlin, two houses were unroofed and boat sheds were smashed at Possum Kingdom Lake. A tornado was sighted near Denton.

The nation's low this morning was at Butte and Bozeman, Mont., where it was 36. The high was 90 at Needles.

The California Highway Patrol reported Ratzesberger was driving north when he started to pass another car on a curve and skidded off the roadway.

Legislature Back On Job With Plea For Tax Reform

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislators resumed work today to the warning by an assemblyman that last Tuesday's primary election showed Californians are demanding local property tax reform this year.

The plea for passage of a stalled tax assessment revision bill greeted lawmakers as they reconvened a session recessed since June 1.

Legislators admitted then that the drawn-out session was stalemated, and took a break until after the primary election. Some of them returned with their political contracts cancelled: Four senators and three assemblymen lost primary nomination contests and won't be back next year.

That election was cited today by the sponsor of a bill that would overhaul local property tax assessing procedures in the 58 counties. Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, tried to bring more pressure to bear on reluctant senators by noting the defeat or narrow survival last week of several county assessors, and the whopping setbacks suffered by local bond issues throughout the state.

"Last week's primary elections made it obvious that California local government faces a genuine property taxpayers' revolt," he said. "This revolt was responsible for the defeat . . . of local bond issues and tax overrides. It also manifested itself more specifically in the expression of voter dissatisfaction with the regimes of several county assessors."

Knox said the balloting means taxpayers "have lost confidence in the entire structure of local property tax administration, particularly in assessors' offices."

He called it a "popular mandate for meaningful reform of assessors' offices," and pointed to the bill now pending in the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee. A subcommittee of the group has recommended its adoption, but the measure has encountered several delays and drawn criticism from the upper house. It cleared the Assembly by a large margin.

Partly stemming from the current scandal that has reached into a number of county assessors' offices, the bill's most important feature requires uniform statewide property assessing at 25 per cent of full cash value by 1971.

Support also came from the League of Women Voters of California Inc., which said "Our members and the general public are acutely aware of the need for assessment reform at this time," and urged passage of the bill.

Other major matters also are pending, chiefly the $4.64 billion budget to run the state in the year beginning July 1. It is expected to win quick approval once a final decision is reached on the issue that forced the recess.

This is an argument between senators and assemblymen over a bill to raise legislative pay from $6,000 to about $16,000 annually and at the same time placate voters by enacting tough rules guiding the outside activities of legislators.

A companion constitutional revision amendment that would trigger the bill into law if voters approved in November is being held up because the required two-thirds Senate approval can't be mustered. Some senators, led by lawyers, regard the conflict of interest provisions as too harsh and demand a watered-down compromise version.

Freeway U-Turn Causes Accident

A 44-year-old Greenbrae man was injured when he swerved his auto to avoid a car that had made a u-turn on Highway 101 and hit a divider fence near Corte Madera at 11 a.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Nello A. Ragghianti of 49 Bretano way was treated in Marin General Hosiptal for multiple cuts and bruises.

The highway patrol reported Arne Ely Ingels, 71, of San Francisco, made a u-turn in the southbound lanes. Ragghianti, braked to avoid Ingels' car and crashed, knocking out three sections of the chain link fence.

Ingels was cited for driving on the wrong side of the road.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

You Can't Understand All You Hear At District School Board Meeting

The district school board is an arm of local government charged specifically with operation of the public schools. In California, all such school boards are elected by popular vote.

The average citizen seldom attends the board's meetings. Having (perhaps) assisted in election of its members by his vote, he leaves the operation of the schools up to the board. Or he thinks he does.

Let us visit a school board meeting, and see how it works.

THE TYPICAL California school board (whether junior college, high school, elementary school or unified—and with or without such additional designations as "city," "union," "joint," etc.) is made up of five members, one or two of whom are women. Its membership is likely to be a fair cross-section of community occupations.

The school board agenda is a far-ranging hodgepodge. There is usually a list of resignations and appointments, both "certificated" and "classified," on which the board places its official stamp of approval. This presents the first and easiest of the hurdles in the obstacle course the uninitiated listener must run if he is to understand what goes on. He soon catches on that the "certificated personnel" are those with teaching certificates; the "classified," everybody else.

AFTER THE resignations and hiring are likely to come some inter-district attendance agreements. If the onlooker has solved these, he is a leap ahead of most of the board members. California's education code propounds an assortment of rules governing the attendance in one district of a student who lives in another, but they are so confusing that many school boards just ignore them and make up their own rules. Involved in this inter-district matter is another politican called the county superintendent of schools. His effect in further confusing the school district organization had best be left to the imagination. Many boards simply ignore him, along with the laws, in working out inter-district agreements.

Next is likely to come a series of reports on current school construction projects—such things as soil tests, materials tests, inspectors' reports, architect's reports, change orders, etc. Rarely does a school board include a builder, and even more rarely an engineer, so it may be assumed that these reports are just as much Greek to the trustees and superintendent as they are to the visitor.

SCHOOL BOARDS have been criticized for devoting too much time to buildings, sites and finances, and not enough to education. They have become touchy about this, so now a board meeting is likely to include at least one report from an administrator or counselor on some phase of the "educational program." It is in these reports that the visiting citizen really meets his Waterloo.

I quote verbatim from what was supposed to be a definitive statement of promotion policy (four typewritten pages, single-spaced) presented to a California school board not too long ago:

"ANOTHER THING to consider is that retardation or acceleration really means referring a situation to another member of the profession. If a child is retarded because of academic failure alone, the problem of the whole child is passed along to another teacher. Rejection of educational processes, and perhaps revolt, may not occur in the child until a number of years later. When they do occur, the teacher who has the pupil at that time is confronted with the problem. Acceleration, on the other hand, may sensitize the child in his later years, so that he withdraws from the activities of his more mature peer group—an unhappy situation at best."

An unhappy situation it is for the citizen trying to understand four pages of that report, all equally obtuse. One suspects that it is equally unhappy for for the board members. They pretend that it is clear to them, of course—for they, to save face, must try to make the public believe they know what it is all about. But they don't. And the teachers, and counselors, and consultants, and administrators know they don't.

SO HERE is what happens at a typical school board meeting: The board approves appointments and resignations presented by the superintendent. The board approves inter-district agreements without being sure they are legal. The board accepts reports, change orders, etc., from a series of experts in fields it knows little about. And then, when it comes to the operation of the schools, the board listens to reports which make sense only to someone able to instantly translate educanto into English (and may not make much sense when translated).

This is the board you elected to run the schools—remember?

Visitor Bureau To Fete Drake

The Marin Visitors Bureau is planning a dinner for Friday at 7 p.m. at Dominics Harbor Restaurant to honor the anniversary of Sir Francis Drake's landing in Marin June 17, 1579.

Clint DeLap, director of the bureau, said he hopes the banquet will become an annual affair climaxing on the 400th anniversary of Drake's landing 13 years from now. He said he hopes the annual banquet will raise sufficient funds for a monument for Drake's Beach.

He said too that the bureau is considering inviting Britain's Queen Elizabeth II to the unveiling of the memorial in 1979.

Barbra Streisand Sings For Free

LONDON (AP) — Barbra Streisand, one of the world's highest paid songstresses, gave a free 20-minute performance last night in London before a celebrity-studded audience in the U.S. Embassy' 200-seat theater.

The occasion was the first Festival of American Arts and Humanities.

Miss Streisand, currently appearing in London' West End in the Broadway musical "Funny Girl," sang a medley from George Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess."

"It sort of represents America," she said, "which is a beautiful mishmash."

Humphrey Urges War On Slums

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey called on the nation's mayors today to join the Johnson administration in a war on "slumism," which he said breeds "disorder and demagoguery and hate" in American cities.

"Despite our housing and urban development, and education and health programs, large parts of America's cities are not fit for daily life," the vice president said.

"The enemy today within our gates is slumism," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at the annual meeting of the United States Conference of Mayors.

Humphrey appealed especially for support from the mayors for the demonstration cities bill now before Congress.

Two Suicide Notes, Packed Suitcase Found

A packed suitcase and what appeared to be two suicide notes were found Saturday on railroad tracks half way between Villa Rafael Motel and Puerto Suello tunnel in San Rafael.

As a result, Marin County police departments, the California Highway Patrol and sheriff's officers were alerted to watch for Lloyd Gary Russell, 29, no known address. An extra alert was being maintained today at Golden Gate Bridge.

One note read: "Dearest Mother: It is time for me to go . . . Goodbye forever. Russ." The other gave phone numbers and said, "Whomever finds this case please call . . . Mrs. Lawrie or Mrs. Russell . . . I love you both, Russ."

Mrs. Alta Lawrie, reached at her Hayward home, said Russell was her son, that she had believed him en route to a job with a lumber company, and that he had been "very down in the dumps and despondent."

Russell was described as heavily tatooed, about six feet tall, and having a badly scarred left arm.

Two Women Face Charges Of Narcotics

Michael Raymond Tauer, 19, was arrested on narcotcis possession charges today at the San Rafael apartment where two women were arrested Saturday after they unwittingly tossed evidence out a window to police officers.

Officers Philip D. Green and Gary Hassfeld were seeking information about a burglary at the time.

They went to the apartment of 19-year-old Carole Ann DeMartini at 19-B Prospect Drive, shortly after 10 a.m. to question her boy friend.

REAR DOOR

Green went to the apartment door and Hassfeld to the rear of the apartment, to cover in case the boy friend should try to get away.

Miss DeMartini refused to let Green in her apartment without a warrant, so he joined Hassfeld at the rear.

Moments later a bag was thrown out the rear window of the apartment, police reported. Inside the bag were marijuana seeds, hypodermic needles, and other paraphernalia used with narcotics, police said.

Green and Hassfeld dashed to the front of the building as Miss DeMartini and her 20-year-old friend, Juanita Anne Torrez of 40 Forest Street, Mill Valley, were leaving.

PLACED IN JAIL

Both were charged with possession of narcotics devices or instruments, and planting, cultivating, harvesting, drying or processing marijuana.

They were placed in Marin County Jail under $2,200 bail each.

Miss DeMartini was released by Judge Peter Allen Smith and scheduled to appear in Municipal Court for arraignment this afternoon. Miss Torrez remained in custody, awaiting a date for her court appearance.

Police said Tauer was the man for whom they were looking when they went to the apartment.

Schultz Helps Redwood Club

Redwood High School's International Club has received a $1,000 donation from Niels Schultz Jr. of Greenbrae to assist the club's student exchange program.

This marks the fifth year Schultz has contributed this amount to the program. He is credited by the club with meeting one third of its annual budget for receiving students from Preetz, Germany.

Schultz said he elected to assist the Preetz exchange because the town is in the part of Germany from which his father came to the United States.

Marin Will Miss Leahy's Help For Public Service

Traditional eulogies are inadequate to describe the loss to the community of Paul R. Leahy, who was laid to rest today.

He was a bundle of energy driven by perpetual motion. That energy found release in a vast multitude of voluntary public service activities.

It is difficult to mention an established volunteer health or welfare agency in Marin County in which the helping hand of Leahy did not play a leading role.

In community service, he was a doer instead of a talker. Unlike chairmen who rely on the authority of their office to organize and draw on the talents of others, Leahy wasted little time waiting for preparatory meetings or the formalities of organization. He rolled up his sleeves and got the work started.

In civic or charitable work, where fund raising is the big project, Leahy would be out putting an arm on a friend or an acquaintance while others were still setting up meetings to discuss how best to launch the fund drive. And by the time the first meeting rolled around, Leahy would be back with an armful of checks and pledges.

Faithful Roman Catholics, Leahy and his family always held their responsibilities to the church first and foremost. He was a dedicated worker and contributor in various church-related community activities.

His service to society extended far beyond Marin County. From the Golden Gate to southern Oregon, he was acclaimed for his tireless and selfless service to the Redwood Empire.

When he quit his job with an established title firm and struck out on his own to build up the Sequoia Title Co., he took only a brief breather from community activities. Even as he got the fledgling company on its feet, he was back at work on community service projects, going full steam.

If Leahy had cut down on the furious pace to give himself some leisure, he no doubt would have lived far longer than the 47 years. But that was contrary to his nature. Every day of his life, he gave his utmost to family, friends and community. He compressed more into 47 years than the average citizen could hope to accomplish in 70.

For his family, the shock of the sudden loss should be tempered with the realization that it had to be a privilege to have had such an outstanding, loved and respected individual at the head of the family.

For Marin County too, it was a privilege to have had such a man as one of the leaders of the community.

Birds Are A Personal Thing

People sometimes phone or write us and tell us about the birds in their neighborhood. Sometimes they ask us to identify a bird from their description. If we know, of course we tell them.

We have learned that people's taste in birds is as personal as their taste in flowers. One lady phoned and said there was a black bird in her garden that walked with a cocky, head-high strut and had a beautiful green-purple irridescence. "It's such a proud-looking, handsome bird," she said. It sounded like a starling to us.

Most people detest starlings. But this woman, preoccupied with its good-looks and stately manner, seemed to have found her favorite bird. It's a matter of taste.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Brown-Reagan Race Makes Issue Of Philosophies Of Government

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — It is fairly evident now that the philosophies of government, rather than the candidates, will be the major issue next November when Gov. Edmund G. Brown, leader of the Democrats and Ronald Reagan, the Republican hopeful, lock horns at the polls.

Despite Brown's near repudiation in the primary, and his apparent decrease in popularity with members of his own party, the governor still starts the finals with an edge.

In his favor will be the majority Democratic registration, which is bound to decrease to some extent, but not enough to give the Republicans any kind of a majority.

IN ADDITION, Brown has somewhat of an uncanny ability, as proven over past years, to recoup his losses in popularity with the people, and come back at full throttle.

Also, over a period of eight years, the governor has constructed a political machine throughout the state of California. He has appointed judges, members of boards and commissions, advisory committees, and individuals to other jobs. A machine of this type cannot be disparaged in vote-getting ability.

Candidate Reagan, however, gives the people of California something they have not experienced in nearly eight years. This is a new face in politics, a face which reflects the desires and needs of all the people rather than only certain segments of the society.

NAIVE IN politics though it may be, it still is rugged enough in character to carry out the mandates of the electorate.

If any conclusion can be reached from the primary vote, it is that the people are somewhat tired of the old faces and the old philosophies in politics, with special reference to the conception that it is the duty and obligation of taxpayers to support a goodly portion of the population with free gifts above and beyond the call of necessity.

The vote indicated that the taxpayers have reached the point where they would like to retain some part of their earnings for themselves, rather than uncomplainingly turn it over to a give-away administration dedicated to the maintenance of a vast bureaucracy organized for the primary purpose of disbursing the fruits of production to a non-productive group.

THUS, THE philosophical issue will be increasingly clear as the campaign progresses. The basic question will be whether the people of California wish to continue distributing their hard-earned money to those who have no thought of working for it, or whether they wish to return government to a sane basis wherein the taxpayer gets his money's worth.

This November the people will have a choice of saying whether they wish to continue going into debt to the point of eventual bankruptcy for operation of state government, or whether they want to return to responsible financing for state services and capital outlay.

These simple issues probably will be muddied during the campaign, but nevertheless, they remain as the basic factors on which decisions will be made in November.

"All things must change to something new, to something strange." Longfellow — Keramos.

Quick Action During Fire

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I want to thank all of the people in Novato and Marin County for their kindness and sympathy during the time of the tragic fire on the early morning of May 24.

I especially want to thank Mrs. Joan Hickey of Novato and Cadet Longshore — dispatcher for the Novato Police Dept., for their quick telephoning action to the police dept., then to the fire dept.

Patrolman Vernon Davies—Kevin, Greg and I want to thank you again for your brave, courageous and quick action. Little Pat wants to thank you also.

I could never find enough words, nor would I ever have enough money to repay you for your most wonderful deed. God bless you, Patrolman Davies, if it wasn't for you I wouldn't have any children left alive. We are so grateful to you.

Thank you very much, Chief George Cavallero and your crew for your able assistance at this time.

I'm very proud of the Novato Police dept and the fire dept.

Every City Needs Lecture

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have just read with interest, your editorial regarding Marin City (June 7). I hope that you plan to do an entire series of similar editorials, taking each city in Marin County in turn.

You might even arrange for the next one to begin with San Rafael, and address some of your lecture to the owners and landlords of large apartment houses. A discussion on the subject of racial discrimination might inject a lively note. This could be followed with some pontifical pronouncements addressed to the scores of merchants, shopkeepers and business owners, regarding the merits of equal opportunity.

Trusting that every other city receives its lecture in a cooperative spirit.

Taxpayers Insist Budgets Be Held

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It seems incomprehensible that in the shadows of citizen repudiation of local school and bond issues, and in view of the hundreds of property owners who have recently petitioned the County Board of Supervisors for economy, that the added expenditure of $1 million for County salary increases could reasonably be contemplated. A telephone call now to the right person in protest might be convincing.

College Develops Arts Program

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On behalf of the whole fine arts division, drama, art, and music, I would like to thank your paper for the excellent coverage you have given us during the past school year. It is greatly appreciated and has been of immeasurable help in promoting and bringing to the public our objectives and opportunities in these fields and into a community that is a good deal above average in appreciation and in developing the arts.

Some of the heads of the departments involved will undoubtably express their thanks as individuals.

The whole division has developed tremendously during the past few years and we feel that the community can be quite proud, as we are, that we have developed a community college program second to none.

With the completion of the new addition to our complex we will be able to offer significant exhibitions in the new gallery, a problem we were not able to resolve in our present situation.

Thank you again for the space offered, and the reviews given our progress.

Reader Should Get The Facts

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Tetu's letter published on June 7 demands answering because of several errors of fact.

First, if he had read the May 25 article correctly, he would have seen that Mr. Curtin's allegations were directed at the school administrators, Drs. Corona and Voydat, not at the board.

Second, several of those "vague" pronouncements of secret committees and conspiratorial methods attributed to Mr. Curtin are a matter of public record:

a) Independent Journal - Nov. 13, 1963.

b) Independent Journal - Jan. 15, 1964.

c) Independent Journal - May 3, 1965.

d) Independent Journal - Jan. 26, 1966.

If Mr. Tetu is interested in obtaining facts he should take the trouble to read these articles.

Furthermore, Mr. Tetu shows his gross ignorance of school matters in his unawareness of the fact that to move from a high school teaching position to one at the college level most often requires taking a substantial reduction in salary. In Mr. Curtin's case it is approximately $3,000 as it was for Mr. Farhad Moezzi, another department chairman at San Rafael High School. This hardly seems a search for ". . . the golden scent of increased dollars. . . ."

Mr. Tetu should check his facts.

Scout-O-Rama Was Big Success

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Our 1966 Scout-O-Rama which was held June 4 at the Marin Art & Garden Center, was an outstanding success in every respect. We had the largest crowds ever and the best unit participation plus a perfect Marin day, as far as the weather was concerned.

Our success of course, was due to the wonderful cooperation of the volunteer leaders, committeemen and boys. We appreciate the excellent support your newspaper gave to this project. The publicity was very much appreciated and well done.

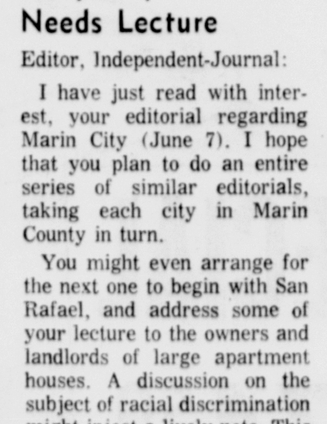
TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

AN ACTRESS who had received a magnificent diamond necklace as a gift from an admirer, hit upon what she thought was a fool-proof device for safeguarding it. She simply left it conspicuously open on her dressing table when she went out with a note nearby reading "This is just an imitation, dear burglar. The original is stashed carefully away in my safe-deposit box."

One night, however, she returned to find the necklace gone. In its place was this penciled message: "Thanks, lady — the substitute is just what I wanted. I'm a substitute myself. The burglar who usually cases this hotel is away on vacation."



WHEN HORACE Greeley was editor of the New York Tribune in the 1860's, he once dashed off a last-minute editorial that concluded in print, "'Tis five, 'tis fifty 'tis, 'tis five." "You infernal ass," roared Greeley to the baffled compositor. "I was quoting Hamlet: 'That he is mad, 'tis true 'tis pity: and pity 'tis tis true.'!"

The compositor is said to have replied, "Humphh! It makes more sense the way I set it up!"

A SELF-CONFIDENT salesman wired his boss, "Must have raise at once or count me out." The boss wired back, "One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten."

'Building Bridges' To China Now Pet Phrase Of Administration

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's administration has a pet phrase, now, being worked for all its worth, on improving relations with the Chinese Communists. It calls for "building bridges" to Red China.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey used it last week in addressing West Point's graduating class. And Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara used it last month. The Red Chinese brushed it off.

This leaves the relationship between the two countries where it was 16 years ago this month.

In December, 1949, the Red Chinese drove Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalist Chinese from the mainland to Formosa. The United States, which had pumped billions in aid to Chiang, had given up on him, washed its hands.

ON JAN. 5, 1950 President Harry S Truman said that whatever happened between Chiang and the Reds was their business and the United States would not defend Formosa. June 25 the Korean War began.

And on June 27 Truman to protect the American flank in the Pacific, reversed himself and decided to defend Formosa. The United States has been stuck with that assignment ever since.

And in all the intervening years, or ever since Red China swept into the Korean War late in 1949, the most powerful nation on earth and the most populated one have been unyielding antagonists, sometimes looking ludicrous.

Although the United States never has recognized the Red regime as the legitimate government of China, ever since 1954 U.S. and Chinese representatives have been meeting in Geneva and Warsaw but hardly hearing each other.

SEN. GEORGE D. Aiken, Vermont Republican, put the proper twist on this bit of irony: "How are you going to recognize Red China when Red China won't recognize us."

Red China, claiming to be lord of the mainland and Formosa, insists Chiang's Formosa has no right to a U.N. seat, which it has, and the United States, stuck with Formosa, must insist it can't be thrown out.

Lately the Johnson Administration, because of the danger of war with the Chinese over the war in Viet Nam, has been under pressure to be less rigid toward the Chinese Communists who have been just as rigid in return.

THIS EXPLAINS the phrase the administration has been spreading about the need to "build bridges." But the Chinese call this a fraud and point to a statement by Secretary of State Dean Rusk last March.

He laid down a 10-point policy for dealing with Red China, including such points as these:
call it a hoax, arguing that "containment" is the real U.S. policy and "without isolation" is false.

The United States made a few ice-breaking gestures of no great importance, like letting Chinese scholars and scientists come here, but China said no.

The Johnson Administration has been rather vague on how to build the bridges. Humphrey in his talk never said how and McNamara suggested maybe balanced trade, diplomatic contacts, and exchange of military observers.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Job Corps Turns Out Expensive Graduates

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The widely controversial and trouble-plagued Job Corps is turning out the most expensive graduates in the country.

In the first 17 months of this Great Society program, out of 38,951 enrollees, the Job Corps has graduated 3,080 — which figures out to $160,064 per graduate.

Basis of this calculation is the following: Since the inception of this anti-poverty project in January 1965, it has cost taxpayers $493 million.

Of the 3,080 graduates, 110 are women. The graduates' known post-graduate record is:

Jobs for 2,072 were in private business and government, 200 of those working for the government are in the Job Corps, Park and Forest Services and Agriculture Department.

ANOTHER 803 entered the military services. Of this group, some 60 per cent were drafted; 40 per cent enlisted.

Some 205 returned to school; 15 are in college.

Additional details about the graduates are sketchy. Until recently no provision was made for a comprehensive follow-up. Such a study is now underway by a leading polling firm. However, reportedly it is sampling only a small cross-section of the graduates.

A check by the Job Corps itself on the first 200 graduates several months after being employed disclosed that 90 per cent were still working on their first jobs.

Authorities claim three years are needed to fully evaluate the career of a Job Corps graduate. The first job, it is held, is not decisive. It's what the graduate does in his second job that will indicate the value, or lack of it, of Job Corps training; whether he is promoted and seeks additional training.

A HIGH DROP-OUT rate of 32 per cent continues to sorely afflict the Job Corps.

Around 9,000 enrollees have quit so far. Twenty-five per cent left of their own accord for a variety of reasons; five per cent were kicked out on disciplinary grounds; two per cent were discharged because of poor health.

Corps officials soft-pedal the embarrassing drop-out rate; they stress instead that 68 per cent stay, even though they are school drop-outs.

Being a school drop-out is one of the requirements for Job Corps admission. Also, the 16 to 22-year-old applicants must come from impoverished families and be unemployed.

Based on intelligence and aptitude tests, they are sent to either conservation camps or urban centers. All women's camps are in urban areas. Training ranges from three months to two years.

One hundred three centers and camps are now in operation in 38 states, with 28,871 enrollees. Another 17 installations are planned for a total enrollment of 45,000 by July 1967.

THIS IS FAR short of the original goal proclaimed by anti-poverty director Sargent Shriver, whose agency runs the Job Corps. Immediately in charge of that program is Dr. Franklyn Johnson.

Shriver foresaw 40,000 trainees in 1965, and 100,000 this year.

A number of factors blocked this — foremost among them Congress' refusal to vote the necessary funds. Shriver talked in terms of $500 million-a-year Job Corps budgets. Instead, Congress approved $183 million for last year; $310 million for this year; and the new budget drafted by the House Labor Committee cuts that to $210 million for next year.

In addition, ths Democratic-controlled committe, which singled out the Job Corps program for sharp criticism, limited its enrollment to 45,000 and barred the opening of new centers beyond those already planned.

Fun, Madness Need Professional Management For Complete Success

It is that time of year when the Novato area is host to four days of madness, fun and frolic called Western Weekend.

Over the years, the celebration has grown and changed a little each year. The parade and rodeo have remained the mainstays of the event.

For years the Junior Chamber of Commerce managed the celebration and it became more than a labor of love—it became just sheer work for the members of that organization and their wives. When other organizations began to reap some of the profits of the celebration in managing various booths at the carnival, it became a city-wide sponsored event.

So last fall it was incorporated as a nonprofit organization with various civic groups from the area having memberships in it.

WITH THAT kind of organization, the planning for it did not run as smoothly or get started as early as it should have this year.

It seemed as though the organization did not have a head to direct it. It was like the arms of an octopus trying to move without a central body.

By its sheer momentum from past years, the celebration will be a bigger success this year than past years. It is bound to make money and entertain a lot of people. After all, it is the only celebration of its kind which is community wide and runs for several days in all of Marin County.

We would like to make one suggestion. Next year the corporation should hire a professional to put on the event. Such men are available to put on celebrations. They work for about three months ahead of time getting the thing in shape, handling publicity, getting all the events lined up and the whole show running smoothly.

WE HAVE SEEN such men really make a financial and entertainment success out of such affairs. They do not kill the local aspect of it, but encourage it by giving it a definite direction and leadership.

They help assure the success of such undertakings. They add a touch of professional management that some things lack, such as the bank robbery of the Bank of Marin.

That was conceived and executed in good fun, and turned out rather well except for a little hitch. One of the group did not have a saddle for his horse and did not quite know how to stay on the back of a horse that moved erratically.

It is a sad plight that he wound up in the hospital with a broken arm and could not help rob the bank. It is even sadder that he had to stay there for two weeks, the crucial two weeks just before the celebration.

THEREIN LIES a little known tale. As poor Miwok Indian John "Fallem Off Horse" Trumbull went to the hospital in his full tribal regalia, the nurses were a little nonplussed to have a patient reach them in that type of attire.

When they went to clean a patch of skin for a hypodermic needle, they were surprised to find it change color. Underneath they found the white man John Trumbull and it took them several days to get all of the Indian war paint washed off him in the hospital bed.

Of course he was placed in the emergency room immediately where he underwent surgery for his badly broken arm. When he was taken out of that room, undressed and placed in the hospital gown, the nurses found two plastic tomahawks where he sat on them while in emergency.

They placed these in a cross on the wall over his bed as a constant reminder that he came in as a Miwok Indian Chief.

Hang On To Your Stocks; Peace Not Creeping Up On U.S. Economy

WASHINGTON — "Stock Prices Dive on New Rumors of Peace Feelers" — headline in the Washington Post.

As someone who watches the stock market every day with trepidation, I was very nervous when I read the news that false rumors about Hanoi peace feelers had sent the market into a decline.

I'm as much for peace as anybody in this country, but if it's going to have a serious adverse effect on Wall Street, I think we'd better think twice about any kind of negotiations.

The minute I read the story I called my broker and said, "What gives with the peace feelers from Hanoi?"

He said, "It could be just a scare. Our information is that peace is still far away, but people are running scared."

"Thank God it's only a rumor," I said. "I'd hate anything to interfere with my investments."

"I DON'T blame you," he said. "I wouldn't have put you in all those defense stocks if I thought there was any chance of a settlement in South Viet Nam."

"Listen, while I've got you on the phone, Russia has just asked for a treaty to internationalize the moon. It sounds like a peace gesture to me. Maybe I'd better sell."

"I'm not sure. The next day the Russians warned us to keep our mitts off Cuba. It came at the right time, too, because the moon business could have caused a selling wave."

"WELL, IF YOU ask me, the Russians have been too damn conciliatory lately and it isn't helping my portfolio at all."

"I think you're being pessimistic about this," my broker said. "It's true that there haven't been too many war scares recently as far as the Soviets are concerned, but we're still a long way from peace."

"Getting back to Viet Nam," I said, "what do you make of these Buddhist demonstrations?"

"IF YOU WANT my personal opinion, it should be good for the stock market. As long as the South Vietnamese can't get together, there doesn't seem to be much hope for a peaceful settlement in the country, and if that's so, the bulls are going to come out ahead."

"I figured as much. But this is what has me worried. If a rumored peace feeler from Hanoi can send the Dow-Jones average down 12 points, why couldn't the Communists announce a real peace offer and send Wall Street into a crash?"

"Don't think we haven't thought of it," my broker said. "But I don't think the Communists would be that smart."

Why the Mercedes-Benz 230SL costs $6420

Top speed is 124 mph. Handling equals today's great sports cars. But the 230SL's genius lies in comfort no sports car has ever matched: chair-like seats that literally breathe, for example. Read more about one of the most desirable sports machines ever built.

THE Mercedes-Benz 230SL is defiantly not fun for the whole family. It's a two-seater machine built for the pleasures of driving.

As such, it succeeds brilliantly: "This combination of absolute security, complete stability, and plain old hell-raising fun must be driven to be believed," states Car and Driver magazine.

Mercedes-Benz takes serious pains to provide this pleasure.

From start to finish of assembly, the 230SL passes a total of 8,117 inspections. Its 6-cylinder, fuel injection engine is hand assembled with pistons matched to within 1/100th of a millimeter.

The completed engine runs at least 75 minutes on two test stands, finishing with a prolonged burst at peak speed.

The completed 230SL then zips from the factory to the test track for a brisk performance check. If it's good enough for the inspector, it's good enough to sell.

Handling for experts

Only a skilled professional driver could take the 230SL up to its road holding limits.

"The car's cornering power is so high that one simply goes roaring into the turn, chooses his line, steers, and opens the throttle to taste. The result is a smoothly negotiated corner that will make your passenger think you're a virtuoso, and drivers of other cars wish that they had taken the bus."—Car and Driver.

Some clues to the 230SL's handling mastery: it stands a mere 4 feet, 4 inches high—yet measures nearly 6 feet wide. And its track is so broad that those chubby 14-inch tires seem to bulge out from the body sides.

NOTE: These tires are a breakthrough in themselves. They were designed to suit the car—using advanced radial ply construction. Their tread design and tenacity help explain why this car literally sticks to the road.

Because of their decisive role in the 230SL's handling, Mercedes-Benz refuses to mount anything less.

You ride on a patented Mercedes-Benz fully independent suspension, with single-joint low-pivot rear swing axle. A few years ago, this same design carried the Mercedes-Benz 300SLR sports-racing car to a world championship.

Big 9.9-inch front disc brakes snub you down to a halt without fade or swerve. The 230SL holds Road & Track magazine's record for fast stopping times.

Einspritzmotor

The 230SL is only stretched to its limit when the speedometer needle nudges 124 mph. You could level off at 100 mph and stay there until it became boring or illegal.

An Einspritzer—fuel injection system—replaces carburetors and helps make this one of the most responsive engines for its size in the world. And one of the smoothest. Its unobtrusive power is also one reason why, unlike most sports cars, the 230SL makes such an ideal long-distance tourer.

What's in a name: The 230 in 230SL stands for 2.30 liters of engine displacement. The "S" stands for Super, the "L" for Light.

At 2855 lbs, the 230SL is anything but flimsy. Mercedes-Benz rally driver Eugen Boehringer underscored the point: he won the gruelling Liége-Sofia-Liége Rally in one.

The squeaks, rattles and groans of hard use and age won't intrude on the 230SL. There's nothing to squeak, rattle or groan: the body is welded up, not bolted together. Then it's unhurriedly hand finished, slathered with undercoating, coated with two primer layers and painted twice with enamel.

A hidden virtue: Vital areas such as the insides of the rocker panels that are sealed off before priming are protected nonetheless: they're zinc-coated before assembly.

Sumptuous living

Visibility in the 230SL is so airy it is eerie. You sit high, the car's waist is low, and side windows arch up over 15 inches. You watch the road ahead, not the hood. The psychological edge is worth an extra 5 mph.

You sit in a contoured, heavily padded seat that resembles a chair, not the typical sports car "bucket."

Describing the 230SL's seats, Britain's Motor magazine said, "They grip, support, relax and ventilate your body supremely well."

The backs also recline. And thousands of tiny holes in the upholstery material keep air circulating. Two large slots on the rear of both backrests allow pent-up heat to escape from inside the seats.

Passengers: The driver may prefer too much or too little heat for your taste. No problem; you can set your own comfort standards with a separate group of heater controls.

The 230SL is decidedly not a family carryall. But you can tuck 7 cubic feet of luggage in the trunk. You can stow another 5 cubic feet, or a smallish relative, in the carpeted area behind the seats.

A 4-speed, fully synchronized transmission with floor shift is standard equipment. In its place you can specify a 4-speed automatic transmission, also with floor shift.

Even people who hate automatics relent with this one; it can be shifted like a manual gearbox, there is no soggy lag in acceleration, and it is so efficient that fuel economy virtually equals manually equipped 230SLs.

Power steering is also available at extra cost. It is generally regarded as the best such system in the world, since it reduces steering effort but not road feel—and does so progressively, coming into play only when needed.

Three 230SL models

You can choose from 3 models: the Roadster, with convertible top, at $6262*; the Coupe, an all-weather removable metal hardtop, at $6420*; and the Roadster/Coupe, at $6665*.

You can flip the convertible top up or down singlehanded, in seconds. It stows flush under a protective steel cover.

"The detachable hardtop is so beautifully engineered that it doesn't look as though it should come off at all," comments Autocar magazine. Note the concave roof of this hardtop. An ingeniously simple means of expanding visibility, as in turning up the brim of a sombrero.

In addition to the 230SL's tangible assets, many owners enjoy the simple fact that it is a Mercedes-Benz.

NOW WELL INTO her third successful career, Pat Jampolsky of Tiburon is going into an active summer with her work designing interiors for several California houses. Previously she won plaudits as a Conover model in New York and founded the first speech clinic in Northern California.

BUSY GAL

Housewife Begins Her Third Career

By BETTY FROST

While most Marin women are looking forward to a leisurely change of pace this summer, one Tiburon gal will be busier than ever.

No chance of the summer doldrums for active Pat Jampolsky who has a number of interesting projects in the works in her latest venture, interior design. This is the third career for versatile Pat, who has also been a professional model and the head of a speech and hearing clinic. Add to this the roles of wife and mother, for she is married to Dr. Gerald Jampolsky, Tiburon psychologist, and they are the parents of Gregory, 11, and Lee, 9.

PAT'S FIRST CAREER was modeling. A natural for the pretty Tacoma girl, who worked at a Seattle store during her undergraduate years at the University of Washington, the slender blonde was such a success that she was asked to become a Conover model and spent six months in New York after graduating from college.

"Then I found that modeling was kind of frivolous," she said. "My major at the University of Washington was speech pathology, with minors in art and music."

After returning from the East, Pat came to San Francisco, where she became interested in little theater work. At the theater arts colony, she met Dr. Paul Moses of Stanford University Medical School, who was on the theater's executive board. The late Dr. Moses, ear-nose-throat specialist whose interest in voice problems led him to friendships with many prominent singers and actors, also had a profund effect on Pat's future. "He persuaded me to return to speech pathology, a field which was so needed, and encouraged me to study for my master's degree."

Mrs. Jampolsky went back to the University of Washington for graduate study in speech pathology, and had completed most of the requirements for a master's degree when she was stricken with polio. She took a year out for the treatments which helped in her recovery. "I still excercise 20 minutes every day", she said.

WITH HER HEALTH improved and her qualifications in order, Pat returned to the Bay Area. She was asked to start the first speech clinic in Northern California. She founded the speech clinic at the Children's Hospital of the East Bay, and worked there seven years.

"The speech clinic started out small," she said, "but now it is a real center and occupies a full building. I am proud of that, and proud that I was instrumental in obtaining acceptance for speech therapy in the Easter Seal program. Children of lower middle class families whose speech has been impaired by cleft palates, polio or cerebral palsy are now able to obtain the help they need."

Romance entered the picture. Soon after Pat married Dr. Jampolsky he was called back into the service during the Korean war. He was stationed at Travis Air Force Base, and when she realized that the commute to her clinic in Oakland was impossible, Pat regretfully gave up her work there.

At the end of the Korean conflict, the couple moved to Tiburon, where Pat devoted her time to her growing family and community activities. She was a popular model in Marin fashion shows. She is a member of the Tom Thumb Society, the Family Service League, the Marin County Medical Auxiliary and the California Speech and Hearing Assn.

A series of misfortunes for the family began six years ago . . . their Tiburon home burned down, Dr. Jampolsky suffered a serious illness, Pat lost twin babies. Then she turned for solace to her early interest in art. She frequently went to Carmel where she began painting. She found an old house that she fixed up and her knack attracted the interest of friends, who asked her help on their projects. Thus, her third career was started.

"I DID NOT WANT to be just a housewife who had a flair" said Pat. So she trained at the Rudolph Schaefer School of Design for a year at night. A second year of intensified study with a design professor followed.

By September she was ready to open Station House Interiors in Tiburon.

Her husband was selected as one of three delegates of the American Medical Assn. meeting at an international conference on health and education in Spain last summer, so Pat and the children visited her parents in Tacoma, then went to Vancouver, where they took a Canadian train across the continent to Montreal. They joined Dr. Jampolsky in New York and sailed for Europe.

After the conference the family spent two months traveling in Spain, Italy, France and Switzerland. Pat had arranged appointments with agents in European centers and ordered a number of items for her new enterprise. "While it all sounds very glamorous," said Pat, "I really worked. I remember being in a chandelier factory in Florence when the temperature was 110, with the two little

Too Rich Food, Fats In Family Diet

(First in a series of articles dealing with risk factors in Heart Disease, provided by the Marin County Heart Assn., as a public education service.)

Strange as it sounds, the American housewife may turn out to be the person in the best spot to prevent heart illness.

More and more studies point to diet as a prime contributor in the development of heart disease.

And, if this does turn out to be true, the housewife has a tremendous responsibility, for the hand that controls what goes on the family table also will control what happens to the family hearts.

THOUGH THE EVIDENCE is not conclusive, research shows that diet is probably guilty on two major counts:

1) Too much food—especially food too rich, too sweet and too fat — that leads to too much weight. Excess weight places an unnecessary burden on the heart.

2) Too much fat — especially saturated animal fats rich in cholesterol and other lipids — that may raise the levels of these substances in the bloodstream. Excesses of these fatty substances may contribute to the development of atherosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries.

OVERWEIGHT IS A MAJOR problem in the United States, for, according to estimates, about one-quarter of the adult male population is dangerously overweight.

Depending on the number of extra pounds, the seriously overweight, middle-aged man is two to three times more susceptible to heart disease than his leaner contemporaries.

Heart disease is not the only danger. The overweight man is also more susceptible to high blood pressure, strokes, diabetes and kidney disease.

Excess weight is usually due to a combination of too much food and not enough exercise. The body does not use all the food it gets and stores the excess as fat.

Though there are many reasons for eating too much, the most common one probably is habit. Active youngsters get in the habit of eating large meals which they still eat but don't need as they grow older. Fear of hurting the cook's feelings or a "clean plate" philosophy also promote overeating.

As anyone who has ever dieted knows from bitter experience, weight is much easier to gain than it is to lose. Taking weight off, and keeping it off, often means a drastic change in eating habits.

By serving nutritious, well-balanced meals, cutting down on rich high-calorie foods and serving smaller portions, the housewife can do her bit toward controlling the overweight problem.

MUCH OF THE CASE against cholesterol and other lipids is circumstantial but it is strong enough for many doctors to advise "better safe than sorry" changes in the diet.

One of the most damaging bits of evidence is the high concentration of cholesterol in the plaques, or fatty deposits of atherosclerosis. Furthermore, scientists are able to produce atherosclerosis in animals by feeding them cholesterol-rich and fat-laden diets.

Comparative studies of diet, blood cholesterol and lipid levels and the incidence of heart disease in different parts of the world strengthen the case.

For example, the heart death rate dropped sharply in most of Europe during World War II when high-fat meat and dairy products were scarce. But the heart death rate remained constant in Denmark where there was no shortage.

Or, the South African Bantu tribe whose diet is low in animal fats, has a much lower heart death rate than the white settlers in South Africa who eat a fat-rich diet.

And heart death rates and blood cholesterol levels both are by far the highest in wealthy, industrialized countries — led by the United States — where the diets are accordingly rich and abundant.

IT IS TRUE that questions still remain to be answered about diet and heart disease. However, your Heart Assn. feels the evidence is substantial enough to urge you to make the following changes in your diet:

1) Eat less saturated fat — primarily animal fats.

2) Substitute vegetable oils and other polyunsaturated fats for animal fats whenever possible.

3) Eat less of the foods — like eggs, cream or butter — that are rich in cholesterol.

4) If overweight, reduce the number of calories so that a desirable weight is maintained.

5) Apply these suggestions early in life.

6) Make sound food habits "a family affair".

7) Maintain the principles of good nutrition, on the advice of a professional, if necessary.

8) Stay with the changes once they are made.

In most people—not all—control of the diet maintains both weight and blood cholesterol and lipids at desirable levels. This, in turn, may reduce the risk of heart disease — and from this hopeful possibility, you can take heart.

Pat often works from blueprints to plan interiors for structures she has never seen.

Pat's third career has grown so fast that she persuaded Jo Stubblebine to join her as an associate. Mrs. J. M. Stubblebine of Mill Valley is an architectural designer and a graduate of the University of Oregon.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Vacation With The Boyfriend May Ruin It For More Than One

DEAR HELEN:

My wife and I have always spent our two weeks vacation with our daughters at a mountain cabin. This year the older daughter is working and can't go. Our 16-year-old wants to take her steady boy friend along on the trip. There's room, but . . . . . What do you think? —FATHER G.

DEAR FATHER:

I think: negative. They'll either come back engaged or hating each other. Whichever, your vacation will be far from restful!

Why not invite a girl friend instead? —H.

DEAR HELEN:

My 15-year-old daughter is badly, very badly, crippled since birth. For years she has wheeled herself to a nearby store for books and ice cream. The new owner called me yesterday and said she can't come any more because of the wheel chair. (Its rubber tires don't mark the floor.)

The truth is, I'm afraid, the woman doesn't want to look at my handicapped child, and is afraid her being there will hurt business.

This was my daughter's only pleasure, the only store near enough for her to visit in her wheel chair. Now she has one less thing to look forward to in days filled with waiting. How can I tell her?—UNWANTED

DEAR UNWANTED:

Tell your daughter only what the woman said: wheel chairs are no longer allowed at the store, possibly because of a traffic problem. Whatever you do, don't let her see your bitterness, because it would hurt her twice as much. The storekeeper is within her rights, though I can't say much for her humanity.

P.S. Most cities have volunteer groups such as the Crippled Children's League, whose members take handicapped young people on outings, teach them crafts, etc. Call your welfare or Mental Health Assn. and inquire. Or, if you can find several other parents of crippled children, you might form a group of your own.

Who knows, this slammed door may open a new life for your daughter. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

Sex in the office, sex in college, sex in the suburbs . . . I'm wondering if it's one big hoax. Where is all this so-called sex?

Down at the office, the men bring their lunches in brown paper bags and play bridge the rest of their lunch hour. Women shop for their kids' clothes during theirs. No intrigue here. I wasn't exactly a monk in college, but sex wasn't rampant either.

We live in the suburbs and we don't even know our neighbors.

If America is sex-saturated, I'm sure missing the boat. As my wife, Pauline, said when she read this, "Just call me Polly-Unsaturated." — SATISFIED ANYWAY.

DEAR S.A.

And them's the best kind!—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Tanforan-Holzer Vows Exchanged

Linda Mae Holzer of Sacramento became the bride of Frank Murray Tanforan, also of Sacramento, in a 2 p.m. ceremony held yesterday at St. Thomas Aquinas Cathedral in Reno. Frank is the son of Mrs. Ralph Brisbin of San Rafael and Frank D. Tanforan of Petaluma.

Linda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holzer of Vacaville, wore a princess styled gown in street length of re-embroidered Alencon lace over satin for the double ring rite.

Maid of honor, Patricia Maber Lambert of Sacramento, wore a street length dress of primrose yellow silk organza. Roger Tanforan of San Rafael served as best man for his brother.

Afterward, a reception was held at the Circle Room of the Holiday Hotel in Reno. The couple are traveling to the Grand Canyon for their wedding trip.

Linda was graduated from Sacramento City College and is employed with the State Dept. of Employment in Sacramento. The bridegroom, who is an engineer at Aero-Jet General Corp. in Sacramento, was graduated from University of California. He is the brother of Mrs. Grover Youngs of Marinwood, Mrs. Dan Bridgeman of Reno and Harold Tanforan of San Rafael.

The couple will make their home in Sacramento.

Disturbance Brings Arrests In Marin City

Two youths were arrested last night and a search started for a third following a disturbance in Marin City involving sheriff's deputies and a howling mob of about a dozen teenagers.

Booked in Marin County Jail on charges of assaulting and obstructing peace officers were William L. Bland, 19, of 99 Cole Drive and Willie E. Crayson, 20, of 89 Cole Drive, both of Marin City.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of David Townsel, 19, on similar charges arising from the 10:30 p.m. incident.

Deputies Gary Bartolotti and Carl Wiese were talking to a woman near 409 Drake Avenue when Townsel approached them and began shouting obscene names at them, they reported.

They finally arrested him on a charge of using profane language. A crowd quickly gathered.

As the officers were holding Townsel, two youths, identified as Bland and Crayson, set on them. In the tussel, Bartolotti was knocked to the ground and kicked about the head and shoulders.

Before reinforcements could arrive, Townsel escaped. Bland and Crayson were arrested.

The crowd, which had gathered, was broken up when another patrol car arrived and the disturbance subsided about midnight.

One deputy, Bill Wallace, was treated in Marin General Hospital for a wrenched knee.

In December, Townsel was arrested on suspicion of firing shots at patrol cars. The case was dismissed, however, when key witnesses failed to appear.

Sinatra Dispute Figure Improves

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Frederick R. Weisman, wealthy, retired businessman injured during a cocktail lounge dispute involving singer Frank Sinatra, is showing marked improvement, say officials at Mount Sinai Hospital.

"He is conscious and recognizes members of his family," said a hospital spokesman. "His condition still is serious but his progress is satisfactory."

Weisman, 54, former president of Hunt Foods, was knocked unconscious Wednesday in the Polo Lounge of the Beverly Hills Hotel.

Sinatra said Weisman punched him under the eye after accusing Sinatra and his party of making too much noise.

Malvina Reynolds

The concert is sponsored by three organizations at the seminary, the Schooners, the Shipmates and Come Doubles.

Brown Urges Federal Home Loan Easing

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown wants the federal government to increase its new $15,000 ceiling on purchase of mortgage loans in California.

Brown said during the weekend a ceiling of at least $25,000 was needed to relieve a hardship imposed on California's construction industry by the federal action.

The governor said since the limit had been set April 1, "the shortage of mortgage capital in California has become critical,"

The governor made the request in a letter to Housing and Urban Development Secretary Robert C. Weaver. He told Weaver other western states hurt by the ceiling should also receive the $10,000 boost.

Brown noted that a precedent for such regional variations in federal monetary policy had already been established by the Federal Home Loan Bank.

Brown said the ceiling pinched California hardest because home construction is generally more expensive than in some other states.

William Warfield To Open Summer Concert Series

Bass baritone William Warfield, direct from a concert tour in Europe, will open the 32nd summer concert season of Marin Music Chest Sunday at 3 p.m. in Forest Meadows at the Dominican College, San Rafael.

His program will include works by Purcell, Schubert, Mozart and a group of Negro spirituals arranged by Hall Johnson.

Immediately after his recital, Warfield will return to New York to appear in a new version of "Showboat" at Lincoln Center.

Non-subscribers to the series may obtain tickets at Forest Meadows on Sunday. Subscriptions may be obtained from the Music Chest up to Wednesday.

Supreme Court Restricts Police Submitting Confessions In Trials

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court ruled today that a confession by a suspect under police questioning may be introduced at his trial only if he was warned of his right to remain silent. (See also story on page 28).

Chief Justice Earl Warren spoke for the court which split 5 to 4 in a decision which he said was aimed at laying down "concrete constitutional guidelines for law enforcement agencies and courts to follow."

Dissenting were Justices John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart, Byron R. White and Tom C. Clark.

Warren summed up the court's definition in these words:

"The prosecution may not use statements, whether exculpatory or inculpatory of innocence or guilt), stemming from custodial interrogation of the defendant unless it demonstrates the use of procedural safeguards effective to secure the privilege against self-incrimination.

"By custodial interrogation, we mean questioning initiated by law enforcement officers after a person has been taken into custody or otherwise deprived of his freedom of action in any significant way."

The decision came in a series of cases from Arizona, New York and California. They were a sequel to a highly controversial 1964 decision of the court in the case of Danny Escobedo of Chicago. His conviction was reversed because the police denied his request to see his attorney, who was at the station house demanding to confer with his client.

The court, in other decisions today:

Affirmed action by the California Supreme Court, which set aside the conviction by a Los Angeles Jury of Roy Allen Stewart on charges of murdering Lucille O. Mitchell, 66, on Jan. 19, 1963, and of robbing four other women. The Mitchell crime was among a series of robberies and beatings which took place during December, 1962 and January, 1963 in one Los Angeles neighborhood. Stewart drew the death sentence.

Set aside the conviction of Carl Calvin Westover by a federal jury on charges of robbing two federally insured lending institutions in Sacramento, Calif. He drew 30 years in jail.

Nullified, in a 9-0 vote, the congressional contempt conviction of John T. Gojack on the ground that the House Committee on Un-American Activities failed to authorize a subcommittee to hold the 1955 investigation of the labor leader. Gojack was an officer of the United Electrical Workers.

Gojack was convicted for refusing to answer six questions including, "Are you now a member of the Communist Party?" He was sentenced to three months in jain and fined $200.

Upheld as constitutional a provision of the 1965 Voting Rights Act which assures the vote to thousands of Spanish-speaking Puerto Ricans in New York City.

The court split 7 to 2 on the issue, with Justice William J. Brennan Jr. speaking for the majority.

The law forbifs a state to deny the vote on grounds of literacy to anyone who has completed the sixth grade in a non-English speaking school in any American territory such as Guam or Puerto Rico.

Teen Theater Sets Summer Performances

The Oops Troop, a new teenage interracial theater, will give a play, conduct performances including improvisations and theater games, in Mill Valley at Brown's Hall from Aug. 10 to Sept. 2.

The troop is directed by Mark Rider of Homestead Valley, assisted by George Muldoon, of Mill Valley.

Registration will be held from 4 to 5:30 p.m., Friday at Brown's Hall.

Rider, who has had experience with the San Francisco Actors Workshop and is English instructor at College of Marin, said there will be two "troops," one for high school youngsters, one for seventh and eighth graders. Number of actors is limited to 30.

The play, to be chosen, will be given at Brown's Hall in conjunction with a rock 'n' roll dance. Improvisations will be performed in local recreation centers and Rider also hopes to give performances at civil rights meetings. Theater costs will be borne by members and parents will be encouraged to assist in making sets and costumes.

Realtor Official Opposes Federal Open Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards testified today "the cause of improved race relations will be retarded, not enhanced," by passage of the open housing provision in President Johnson's civil rights bill.

Alan L. Emlen of Philadelphia told the Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee that the proposed ban on racial or religious discrimination in the sale or rental of housing would be destructive of property rights and the growth of home ownership. He pictured Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach as "on a judicial shopping spree to find appropriate constitutional hooks" on which to peg the legislation.

Katzenbach has told the committee that he has no doubt that the open housing proposal is constitutional, under both the commerce clause and the 14th Amendment.

Emlen was the only witness as the subcommittee began a second week of hearings on the bill, which also is designed to eliminate discrimination in the selection of state and federal juries, speed the desegregation of public schools and provide additional protection against racial violence.

Ad Executive Found Dead Of Wounds

Richard Lee McClenahan, 34-year-old advertising agency executive, was found dead of gunshot wounds last night in his home at 2 Lagunitas Road, Ross.

County Coronor Frank J. Keaton called the wounds from two shots with a .32 caliber Mauser automatic "self-inflicted," but said it was not known whether the shooting was accidental.

McClenahan, media director of Campbell-Ewald Co., was found dead by Ross Police Officer Leavins Hennenberg after Mrs. McClenahan phoned police at 8 p.m., asking them to check on her husband who had failed to arrive at a party in Kentfield.

The body was in a basement workshop. The Mauser was lying two feet away. Three other guns, two in cases were lying on a workbench.

The first shot had passed through McLenahan's shoulder, the fatal shot through his throat, the bullet lodging in his head.

The McClenahans have two children.

The body was taken to Chapel of the Hills for autopsy.

Billy Graham Aide Denies Reports Of Money Woes

LONDON (UPI) —A spokesman for Billy Graham's crusade denied a newspaper report that the evangelist's organization was economizing because it faces a possible deficit of $70,000 in its $840,000 budget.

Walter Smyth, crusade director and vice president of the Billy Grahm Evangelist Assn., said in a statement:

"At this point the crusade is following a normal pattern, it is hard to say now that at the close of the crusade, there will be either a surplus or a deficit. But from all the indications all bills will be met."

Smyth's statement was in answer to a Daily Telegraph story that quoted other published reports as saying that donations from churches fell short by about $56,000 and that collections at Graham's nightly meetings at Earl's Court arena were less than expected.

THE SCHOOLS PROBE

San Rafael Board Inexperience, Policy Lacks Scored

(First in a series)

The San Rafael Board of Education has failed to act as a team, has become involved in administrative details, and has failed to give leadership to the school system, in the opinion of an investigating team of the California Teacher Assn.'s personnel standards and ethics commission.

Board, administration, teachers and community all come in for criticism in a 55-page report of the commission, based on findings by the investigating team during two days of interviews with 117 residents and school employees late in March.

The report takes note of the inexperience of the present board, in which the longest tenure is three years (chairman Carl J. Brown) and only one member (Lawrence I. Kramer Jr.) had any previous school board experience.

"The nature of the board has changed dractically in the past few years," says the report. "Prior to the latest change in district administration, board members frequently served two or more terms, giving continuity to the board."

However, it says , at another point, many of the district's problems "were inherited from the more experienced boards of the past."

Lack of policy control by the board draws censure of the commission. The report says:

"The board lacks, or is unaware of, formally adopted policies in such critical areas as the teaching of controversial issues, handling of citizen complaints, responsibility for book lists and library selections, conduct of board meetings, and many areas of personnel administration."

An occurrence not previously publicly known is brought to light in the report.

"When the present San Rafael High School principal resigned last year," it says, "the board refused to accept the resignation and directed the principal to send periodic reports about the school operation directly to the board." However, it later notes, the board "accepted a new resignation to be effective at the end of this school year."

The investigating committee found fault with board members accepting complaints from citizens which did not pass through "accepted administrative channels and board procedures."

"One member publicly invited direct approach to individual board members with complaints," says the report. "Another ordered a newly named assistant superintendent to 'clean up that mess at San Rafael High.' "

The report says the board has used citizen committees "to remove pressure from the board rather than to seek the community's advice and counsel." It objects that persons "representing a minority group attacking the schools" have been named to citizen committees. It claims the citizen committee charged this year with preparing a policy on controversial materials duplicating a teacher committee for the same purpose.

"Except for last year's tax defeat, the district has always approved additional school funds," the report notes. "Yet, San Rafael elementary schools are being operated like those of an impoverished district."

Another section of the report cites high morale among elementary school teachers, however.

"The board," says the CTA commission, "has a history of refusing, ignoring or grudgingly accepting available funds from federal, state or private foundation sources." It cites turndown of a Carnegie Foundation grant for instruction in the Chinese language, and says: "The district reportedly has failed to apply to the state for the $40 per pupil for the gifted child program."

As another instance of elleged niggardliness, it says: Although the board was reported to have promised for two years to meets its legal obligation by instituting duty-free lunch periods (for teachers), this has not been done."

Concludes the report:

"Evidence is convincing that strong, positive leadership has not always been present on the San Rafael Board of Education. The current board is no exception."

It claims "the board presents a weak, vacillating and divided image," and "allows the public to use its meetings as an open forum for charges and countercharges."

Further, it alleges, "lines of responsibility have been blurred by the entrance of board members into administrative areas. The board permits personalities to become involved in its deliberations . . . The board has condoned statements which reflect adversely on the staff."

The CTA commission criticizes use of general operating tax funds for building purposes. However, an increase in the high school district tax rate was voted on the understanding that part of the money would be used to rehabilitate San Rafael High School and add to Terra Linda High School. This is not noted in the report.

A Warm Day For 50th Anniversary

The horseless carriages rolled, the band played and the majorette strutted under the warm sun yesterday as Corte Madera closed the three-day celebration of its 50th anniversary with an old-fashioned parade.

Clumps of residents gathered at intersections and waved at their friends and children as paraders wended their way from Larkspur-Corte Madera School on Magnolia Avenue, around the Village Square and down Tamalpais Avenue past the reviewing stand at the town recreation center.

First came 30 vintage cars, followed by some distance, by the marchers headed by a color guard from Marin County's Marine Corps. Reserve.

Then came majorette Carol Murata and the Southern Pacific Band, the marchers including youth groups and the riders, including a group of happy children atop an old fire engine.

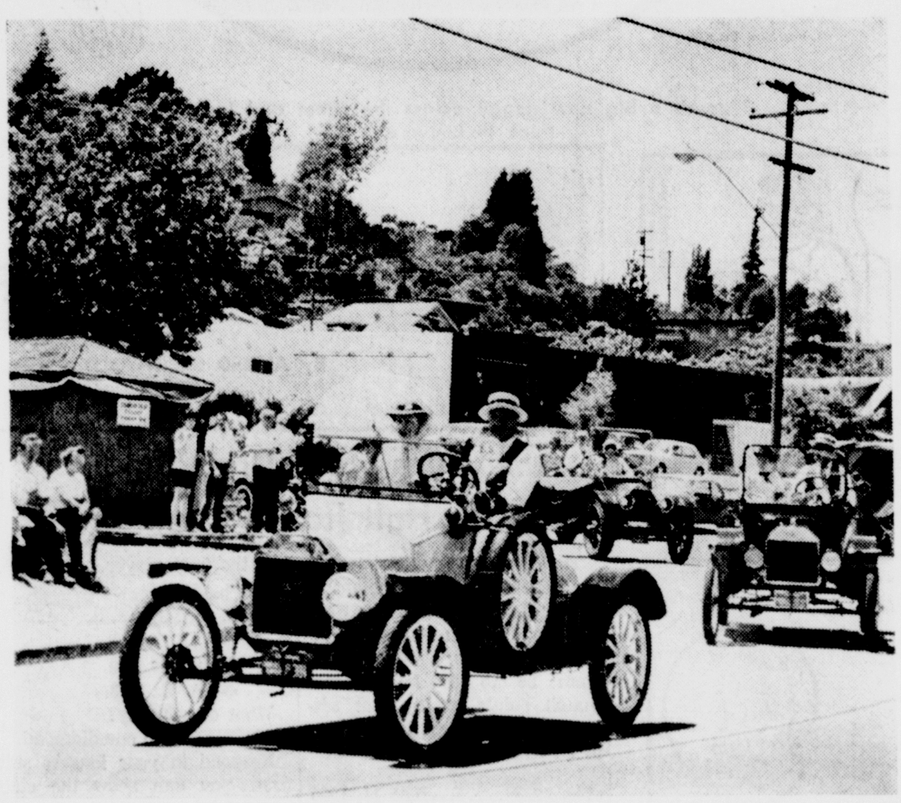
Grand marshal of the parade was Larry Yoell of 3 Montecito Drive, who rode in a captain's chair atop a pickup truck.

The town celebration concluded at the Corte Madera Shopping Center with a concert by the Southern Pacific band.

Volunteer firemen staged a spirited water fight in the shopping center parking area, using streams from their hoses to push a huge colored ball. A team of eight volunteers led by Asst. Chief Lee Larson won the contest 3-2 over the team led by ex-volunteer Art Charmichael, who moved from Corte Madera to Los Altos a month ago.

Shrieking bystanders were sprayed frequently as the play neared the sidelines.

Crowds were substantial. Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher estimated the crowds for opening ceremonies and dance at 500, with that watching re-enactment of town hall dedication Saturday at 200.



HORSELESS CARRIAGES IN- PARADE—Old cars of pre-world war I led off Corte Madera's 50th anniversary parade yesterday past the village square.

AND THE BAND PLAYED ON — The Southern Pacific Band, attired in trainmen's overalls, tootled its way past the remodeled town hall, dedicated Saturday.

MOVE THAT BALL! — Two teams of volunteer firemen brought hoses into play on a big rubber ball in a water fight in the parking lot of the Corte Madera Shopping Center as an afternoon feature of the anniversary celebration.

IRS Is Threatening To Tax Sierra Club

A threat by the Internal Revenue Service to revoke the tax-exempt status of the Sierra Club today brought defiance by the club and a blast by a Marin candidate for Congress.

Joseph M. Cullen, IRS district director, in a letter hand-delivered Friday to Sierra Club president William I. Siri in Berkeley, warned the club may lose its tax-exempt status because of its advertising campaign against the proposed Marble Gorge and Bridge Canyon dams in the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

The warning came within 24 hours after publication of full-page Sierra Club advertisements in the New York Times and Washington Post.

Expressing amazement at the federal agency's speedy action, Dr. Edgar, Wayburn, Sierra Club vice president, declared: "I can only hazard that some official with very considerable power in the federal government . . . used that power to effectuate rapid action that ordinarily will be used only in a national emergency."

Thomas T. Storer, Marin County superivsor who is Democratic candidate for Congress from the First District, said today:

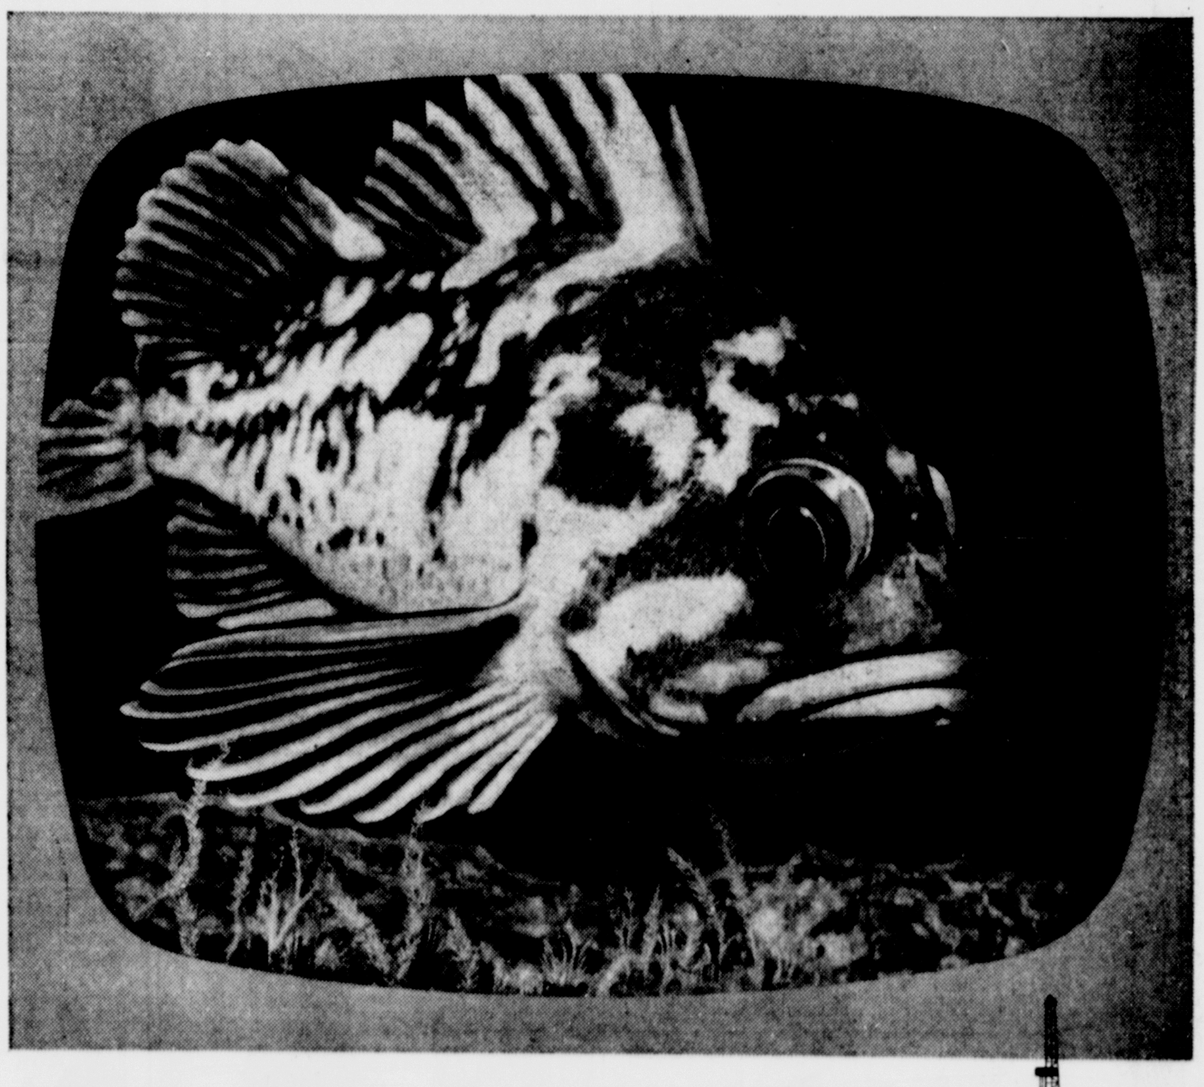
"I am shocked that any group or individual in this country cannot attempt to influence legislation without being directly and immediately intimidated by an agency of the federal government."

Siri, a University of California physicist, said Cullen's letter read:

"In view of evidence of your activities directed toward influencing legislation in possible violation of the prohibition . . . of the Internal Revenue Code . . . you are advsed that the Revenue Service is no longer prepared to extend advance assurance of deductibility of contributions to your organization."

Wayburn said the club would go in with its fight against the dams "whether or not the tax exemption is taken from us."

El Camino Real is "The Royal Road" or, in popular parlance, "The King's Highway," name of the highway connecting the California missions, extending northward from Mission San Diego de Alcala to Mission San Francisco Solano at Sonoma, 45 miles north of San Francisco.



Smile, Mrs. Sebastodes ...you're on live TV

Sebastodes, or Rockfish, is one of many colorful species of the ocean deeps where our underwater TV cameras and lights probe the night-black water at 600 feet.

These cameras are not for study of marine life, however. They're down there to help technicians aboard our anchored oil-drilling ships guide complicated, remote-controlled drilling equipment. TV receivers on deck enable engineers to observe these drilling operations at depths hazardous for human divers to penetrate.

600 feet – 100 fathoms. It's almost twice as deep as any ocean oil drilling ever attempted, until some very special techniques developed by Standard Oil scientists and engineers made it possible.

Our continuing search for new sources of oil takes us to mountains, deserts, and ever and ever deeper waters. For we must be certain that adequate supplies of oil are on hand to serve the Free World's growing energy needs, now and in the future . . . an important part of our responsibility to you.

Americans Stage Dramatic Try To Halt Italian Champs

The most dramatic hand of the recent world championship ended the fifth session between Italy and North America.

The Italian lead was reduced from 90 to 46 international match points during that session, raising American hopes of an eventual victory.

Walter Avarelli, East, won the first trick with the ace of hearts and returned a trump, hoping to hinder a cross-ruff.

It turned out to be a weak defense.

WON IN DUMMY

Lew Mathe, declarer, won in dummy with the six of spades, discarded a club on the queen of hearts and ruffed a heart.

East discarded a diamond.

Mathe led the queen of diamonds, covered by the king and ace.

He then ruffed another heart and led the king of clubs.

Giorgio Belladonna, West, covered with the ace of clubs, and dummy's low trump won the trick.

FORCED RUFF

When Mathe led a good heart from dummy East had to ruff.

Declarer over-ruffed with the ace (his last trump) and cashed the queen of clubs.

This was his eighth trick.

Now South led a diamond, and East had to ruff.

He could not stop dummy from making two more tricks with the king and jack of trumps, so the game contract came home for a score of 620 points.

In the first room of the match Camillo Pabis-Ticci had played the North-South cards at four spades and had gone down two for a loss of 200 points.

The full American gain, therefore, was 820 points or 13 international match points.

GAME WATCHED

The hand took 20 minutes to play, while an audience of 500 watched each bid and play on an electrically controlled display board.

There was generous applause, even from many Italian fans, when Mathe made his contract.

It was America's best moment in the match.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, June 13, the 164th day of 1966 with 201 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase; the morning stars are Venus and Saturn; there are no evening stars.

American poet and novelist Mark Van Doren was born on this day in 1894.

On this day in history:

In 1877, the Russo-Turkish war began.

In 1935, Jim Braddock won the world heavyweight boxing title from Max Baer in a 15-round decision.

In 1942, the American Army magazine of World War II—"Yank"—was published in New York for the first time. President Franklin Roosevelt created the Office of War Information and named radio commentator Elmer Davis to serve as director.

A Thought for the Day — British author Francis Bacon said: "Words and discourse aboundeth most where there is idleness and want."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

New Continental Show Entertaining

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"Continental Showcase," a zestful European-produced variety series replacing Jackie Gleason for the summer, had its debut on CBS-TV during the weekend, with America's Jim Backus as host.

The 14-week Saturday night series, which features top talent and new faces from abroad, is centered basically at Bavaria studios in Munich, Germany, but is shot at various locations around the continent, frequently using highly imaginate outdoor settings.

Unlike NBC-TV's current series of London Palladium broadcasts which tend to be too Americanized rather than seeking the uniqueness of their setting, "Continental Showcase" has a distinctly European flavor, even with its heavy emphasis on this nation's music.

This flavor is achieved in the best way—by simply letting the guest artists do what comes naturally, which includes some singing in their own languages. Other assets in this flavor were the costumes, the settings (outdoors especially) and some of the production numbers which were delivered in a near-cabaret style.

At times the show was perhaps a bit too zestful, and bordered on being too much of a potpourri, but it was easy to forgive these minor points as they were merely offshoots of an hour that was obviously trying hard and generously to be entertaining and different.

The enhertainment high spots included a charming hot rendition of a Dixieland number by a unit band of the Buckingham Palace guard, featuring a breezy clarinet solo; a dramatically filmed song number by France's Gilbert Becaud; an American folk song delivered by a handsome young Israeli husband and wife team; a production dance medley from "West Side Story"; and a droll Italian quartet that offered "Some of These Days" in a manner that might have come straight out of a Fellini nightclub scene.

In short, one can tell from tis selection of numbers that the variety and humor ranged from attractive squareness to unaffected contemporary style to a gentle touch of camp. This is a potentially dangerous mixture, but the editing and geniality brought it off with a style that indicated that even if all the shows aren't especially great, they will almost always be lively and a bit offbeat.

Other performers included the Kessler twins, whose singing, dancing and blonde beauty have been seen previously on American television; songstress Birthe Wilke of Denmark; Henry Segers' Belgian swing band; and the Hazy Osterwald sextet, which ranged from Guy Lombardo squareness to a lively rendition of part of Benny Goodm'ns "Sing, Sing Sing," as done in the famous 1937 Carnegie Hall concert.

State Has Record For Labor Peace

SACRAMENTO (AP)—There were many strikes in California during the first three months of 1966 but employee idleness due to the walkouts was the lowest for any first quarter since World War II, the State Industrial Relations Department reported over the weekend.

Ernest B. Webb, industrial relations director, said the work stoppages during January, February and March, 1966 cost 61,000 man-days of labor. He reported that 158,000 man-days were lost in the first three months of 1965.

Webb said 64 work stoppages began in the first quarter of 1966 compared with 74 stoppages in the first quarter of 1965.

Motorcyclist Hurt

Robert E. Poole, 18, of 931 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon, suffered minor cuts and bruises Friday afternoon when his motorcycle collided with a car in the west parking lot of Redwood High School, driven by Douglas Dreyfus, 18, of Ivy Drive, Ross.

Council Approves Playgrounds In Budget Actions

New playground equipment, improved walkways and additional staff were among items approved by Mill Valley City Council when members completed the budget Saturday.

Approval was given to a parks and recreation commission recommendation that $14,500 be earmarked for new equipment for playgrounds at three neighborhood parks and the construction of a parking area at Old Mill Park.

In addition, $5,000 was set aside for the start of a program which members hope will eventually improve all the trails and lanes in the city.

The council approved the appointment of an additional police patrolman and two library assistants. The assistants will be appointed at a combined salary of $8,800.

Collision Hurts Novato Couple

A Novato couple suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision on Highway 101, about five and one-half miles north of Novato, yesterday noon.

Injured were Benjamin F. Collier, 83, the driver, and Gertrude Collier, 76, his passenger, both of 2004 Novato Boulevard.

Collier suffered body bruises and Mrs. Collier complained of pain. Both were examined at Novato General Hospital.

Collier was driving west across Highway 101 when his car collided with a southbound car driven by Arvada D. Pachecho, 23, of San Francisco, the California Highway Patrol reported. Pachecho, who suffered bruises, told officers he would be treated by his own doctor.

$600 Checks Stolen

Donald B. Samson reported the theft Saturday of $600 in traveler's checks from his unlocked apartment at 135 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, while he was in the apartment house swimming pool.

RIOT SCENE—An angry Chicago police canine corps dog is restrained after biting one of the rioters sweeping Chicago's North Side. The man bitten by the dog (bent over) was identified as Juan Melan, 20, was taken to a hospital by the mob last night. (UPI Telephoto)

Violence Sweeps Chicago Slums After Police Shooting Episode

CHICAGO (AP)—Violent street fighting erupted in a predominantly Puerto Rican neighborhood on Chicago's North Side Sunday night after a policeman shot a Puerto Rican youth he said had threatened him with a gun.

The surging, rock-throwung mobs numbered more than 1,000, police said.

The rioters tipped a police car on its side and burned it. Another squad car was heavily damaged. Windshields of many more were broken by rocks and hurled pop bottles. Fire was started in another police car, but quickly extinguished.

By midnight at least two dozen persons had been injured and more than 30 jailed.

Police were pelted with rocks, bottles and debris as they tried to disperse the crowds in a 10-square-block area.

Sporadic gunfire could be heard and looting was reported in several shops.

Patrolman Thomas Munyon, 25, the officer who shot the youth, described the incident:

"My partner and I went into this alley to break up a fight. . . This guy started to pull a gun from under his shirt and I shot him. There were about 10 or 15 persons in the alley. . . so my partner and I put the wounded man into a car and got out of there."

The wounded man was identified as Cruz Arcelis, 20.

Munyon, married and the father of two, said he fired four times and didn't know how many shots hit Arcelis.

After the incident aroused crowds poured into the streets and police canine squads were sent into the area.

A police dog bit Juan Melan, 20, and the crowd shouted disapproval. Melan was hoisted to the shoulders of friends and displayed to the crowd, then taken to a nearby hospital.

The crowd moved one block south to the corner of Damen and Division. Rocks and bottles began to fall near policemen directing traffic away from the area.

Spanish-speaking police, youth workers and Catholic priests used bullhorns to plead with the crowds to leave. They were ignored or shouted down.

A rock smashed a squad car windshield and a mass of screaming youths moved toward two empty police cars. They smashed windows and tore the hood off one, then moved to the other chanting.

The car was rocked back and forth, then turned on its side. Almost immediately flames shot from the gas tank. A column of black, greasy smoke rose high above the street.

Firemen, arriving to fight the flames, were pelted with stones as they wrestled with hoses among the crowds.

Police moved back into the area and charged the crowds.

A woman and her 3-year-old child were knocked down and bruised in the melee.

Police vans, loaded with officers armed with drawn guns and heavy wooden nightsticks, ranged up and down dimly-lit side streets in an attempt to keep order as incidents erupted one by one. There seemed to be no leadership in the crowds.

At Evergreen Avenue, a line of fire stretched across Damen Avenue. Teen-agers had poured gasoline and then ignited it.

Several persons in the crowd waved Puerto Rican flags. Fire crackers and cherry bombs exploded.

Negroes Riot Over Florida Arrest Tries

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UPI)—Two police officers broke up a fight on a public beach yesterday and touched off a riot involving hundreds of bottle-throwing Negroes.

Escambia County Chief Deputy W.E. Ambrose said the flareup only involved Negroes. It had no racial overtones, Ambrose said.

Two persons, a Negro and a sheriff's deputy, received minor injuries before 50 police officers, state troopers and shore patrolmen moved in to quiet the disturbance.

More than 30 persons were arrested and were expected to be charged with disorderly conduct, resisting arrest or assault, authorities said.

The trouble began shortly before sunset at Johnson's Beach, a segregated bathing area about 20 miles southwest of Pensacola. Two Negro policemen tried to arrest four men involved in a fight and a crowd attempted to stop them.

"When the officers arrested the four Negroes," Ambrose said, "The party they were with began to protest and throw things. One Negro female pulled a knife on one of the officers."

Larger crowds engaged officers with bottles, bricks and rocks and wrecked a police car. Windows in other patrol cars were smashed.

"There must have been around 2,000 Negroes on the beach," Ambrose said. "It is serious but it wasn't as bad as it could have been."

The committee's regular meeting has been rescheduled for June 29 in the office of the County Superintendent of Schools, Corte Madera.

Klan Boss Contempt Trial Delayed Until September

WASHINGTON (AP) —A federal judge delayed today the contempt of Congress trial of Ku Klux Klan leader Robert M. Shelton until Sept. 12.

Chief Justice Matthew McGuire of the U.S. District Court ordered the delay after Shelton's attorney, Lester V. Chalmers Jr., said it would take one to two weeks to try the case.

The government had estimated earlier the trial would l only one day.

Shelton, named by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, would not speak to newsmen.

If convicted, he faces a fine of between $100 and $1,000 and a prison sentence of from one month to one year.

The Shelton tiral is expected to serve as a test case for the trial of six other Klan leaders scheduled this fall. All were cited by the committee on Feb 2 and indicted a day later.

The contempt charges were brought on grounds the Klan officials refused to supply records and other documents to the Un-American Activities Committee during its four-month look last fall and winter into the Klan's secrets.

Shelton appeared before the Klan investigation subcommittee last Oct. 19 and 20. After he gave his name and place and year of birth— Tuscaloosa, Ala., June 1929—and said he had received a committee subpoena to testify Oct. 11, he refused about 100 times to answer questions.

In addition to questions relating to production of personal and organizational records and tax returns, as demanded in the committee's subpoena dated Oct. 7, Shelton on advice of his attorney refused to give details of Klan activities.

He cited four constitutional amendments and argued that the investigation went beyond the scope authorized by the House and was not intended for any valid legislative purpose.

Stinson Beach Water Budget Is Approved

Stinson Beach County Water District approved a $4,260 budget for 1966-67 at its meeting Fiday night. The figure was a drop of $3,850 from the budget for 1965-66.

Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, secretary, said today the slashing of the budget was brought about by a cut in the amount set aside for engineering services and the fact the district has paid back a bank loan.

Irish Doctors Question Claim Sex May Harm

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) —A group of Dublin gynecologists have challenged an Irish physiologist to prove his claim that sexual intercourse for pleasure alone can cause cancer and "the development of offspring with congenital diseases."

Dr. J. K. Burns, a professor at University College in Galway, touched off the dispute with a statement he said he issued because the Roman Catholic Church appeared to be wavering in its position on birth control.

"Use of the reproductive act, apart from its intended purpose of procreation," said Burns, "can be expected on a biological and medical basis to cause an increase in the incidence of congenital stress, infective and malignant diseases."

The gynecologists replied in an open letter to Irish newspapers.

"So far as we are aware," they said, "this view has never before been advanced by any responsible person and we would welcome an exposition by Prof. Burns of the research which has led him to this conclusion."

Burns could not be reached for comment.

He is in his mid-30s.

Ruby's Sanity Trial To Start Despite Protest

Two Lawyer Teams Will Represent Oswald's Killer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The question of whether Jack Ruby was sane or insane when he killed Lee Harvey Oswald is to be decided by a district court jury this week.

The sanity hearing—first requested and then opposed by defense attorneys—gets under way today with the selection of a jury.

Ruby's lawyers, claiming their client's constitutional rights would be violated by having to present witnesses who might be called for a possible second murder trial, are expected to ask for a postponement. Judge Louis T. Holland indicated at a pretrial hearing Friday that he would not grant any delays.

FACES DEATH

Ruby, 55, former strip joint operator, is under the death penalty for killing Oswald, named by the Warren Commission as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy. The slaying in the basement of the Dallas police station occurred before a nationwide television audience Nov. 24, 1963.

After they were unsuccessful in forestalling the sanity hearing, two groups of lawyers, each representing Ruby, said they would not call their client to the stand nor would they present witnesses or evidence to support their earlier contentions he is insane.

One group is headed by Phil Burleson of Dallas, currently representing Ruby. The other is headed by Joe Tonahill of Jasper, named by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to represent Ruby in the sanity hearing. Judge Holland said Friday he would recognize both groups.

The Court of Criminal Appeals ordered the sanity hearing May 18, saying it would not consider an appeal of his conviction until his mental condition had been determined.

ALTERNATIVES

If Ruby is found insane, he will be committed to a state mental hospital. If found sane, the high court is expected to consider his appeal.

At Friday's hearing, defense lawyers said that Ruby does not want a sanity hearing.

During the more than two-and-one-half years he has been in jail, the short, balding Ruby has told newsmen and jailers several times he is not insane.

Deputy sheriffs say that during his stay in jail he has remained outwardly calm, playing dominoes, reading the Bible, and doing pushups in his one-man cell.

"He's living as usual a life as could be expected," said deputy sheriff Allen Seatt. "Three meals a day, visits by his family, that sort of thing."

Deputies Try For Glimpse Of Nude Fete

There were uninvited guests among the young crowd attending high jinks in the grounds of Burdell Ranch north of Novato yesterday.

Gatecrashers were sheriff's deputies checking out reports some people were finding it too hot even for swimming costumes.

A 15-year-old girl told officers she saw several people were running around in the nude near parked cars. Another girl said several swimmers were in birthday suits.

One woman reportedly wore a hat, a string of beads, a smile and little else, said Sheriff's Deputy James L. Current. He was told another woman, apparently nude, was sitting in a parked car "strumming a guitar with a glassy stare."

But when the deputies arrived they found everyone suitably dressed

Current was told six young men had leased the two-story mansion for $500 a month and were holding a private party.

Big Name Stars Arrive For U.S. Open

Official practice rounds begin today for the 66th U.S. Open that starts Thursday on the Olympic Club Lakeside Course in San Francisco.

A few famous golfers already have been over the beautiful, tree-lined course, just a No. 1 wood from the Pacific.

But many participated in the Buick Open, won yesterday by Phil Rodgers. Among them were Arnold Palmer and Tony Lema.

Gary Player, the South African who won the Open last year, played Lakeside yesterday for the first time in his life. Jack Nicklaus was his partner.

Should Player win, he would be the first to take two consecutive Opens since Ben Hogan did it in 1950 and 1951.

Hogan, now 53 years old, apparently is serious about trying to become the only golfer ever to win five U.S. Opens. He has practiced on Lakeside nearly all the past week after the U.S. Golf Assn. gave him a special exemption from qualifying.

This is not the first time on Lakeside for Hogan, whose over-all game matches the requirements for the course. For in 1955, he was an apparent winner of the last Open played at Lakeside until Jack Fleck birdied two of the last four regulation holes and then won an 18-hole playoff. That's the closest Hogan has come since then.

Fleck, then an obscure pro from Davenport, Iowa, apparently has slipped right back into the void. Now a 44-year-old pro from Northbrook, Ill., Fleck practiced yesterday at Lakeside, drawing the attention only of his caddy.

Player, whose accurate game gives him an excellent shot at a second straight title, fell in line and predicted a winning total of 284 for the 72 holes, four over par.

"This is a beautiful course," Player said. "It plays just like it looks. Because of the rought, there is no chipping in the Open. Not one chip shot in 72 holes."

DRIVING TO THE OPEN? HERE'S PARKING DOPE

Fans planning to drive to the U.S. Open Golf Tournament at the San Francisco Olympic Club this week will have about 7,000 parking spaces available to them.

Approximately 6,000 cars will be parked on the Ocean Course and will be served by three gates on Skyline Boulevard. The charge is $1.

Free parking will be available for another 1,000 cars on John Muir Boulevard, bordering the northeastern side of the course. Muni buses will run a shuttle service to the course daily.

Marinite's Unusual No-Hitter; Ed Randol's Road To Recovery

RECENT EDITION of the St. Louis Sporting News told its readers that San Anselman Steve Miller, a minor league pitcher for the Houston Astros, is a most unusual athlete.

Like, for example, when he quit the Drake High School baseball team in his senior year so that he could devote more time to his motorcycle.

And just recently when he fell out of a tree in Salisbury, N.C. where he is employed by the Salisbury Astros of the Western Carolinas League, injuring his neck and temporarily curtailing his pitching duties.

The neck was still stiff on May 30, but Miller was given a starting assignment against the Lexington Giants and proceeded to pitch a no-hitter. Which was quite unusual even for a guy who rides motorcycles and falls out of trees, but Steve's no-hitter was punctuated by 10 (count 'em, TEN) walks. He won, though, 6-1.

The Sporting News notes that Steve is not even a left-hander.

P.S. Please don't ask me whatinell Steve was doing up in a tree in Salisbury, N.C.

HIS MANY friends will be delighted to know that I-J football columnist Ed Randol, stricken with his second heart attack last month, is well along the road to recovery. Literally.

Randol was released from a San Francisco hospital recently under doctor's orders to "walk a mile a day."

So, obedient Ed should be passing through San Rafael around the Fourth of July and hopes to reach his Sebastopol home by the middle of August. If someone doesn't straighten him out he'll be covering the Canadian Football League sometime in 1969.

FRANK BURCH of San Rafael, who graduated from USF last week with scholar-athlete honors (summer come laud?), was bypassed in the baseball draft last week. This was a surprise because Frank's fine four-year pitching record for the Dons suggested major league potential.

But, a scout tells me that the pros usually shy away form pre-med students because they have more in their future than games so why pay them fancy bonuses.

Frank was a biology major at USF but still might latch onto a pro ball contract.

MIKE WALSH, star linebacker for Redwood High's 1961 Marin Athletic League championship football team, leaves this week for two years of Peace Corps world in Somaliland on the east coast of Africa.

S.F. Man's Long Swim: North Africa To Spain

GIBRALTAR (AP) — An American swimmer, protected from sharks by a 16-by-12 foot wire cage, made what was believed to be the first crossing from North Africa to the coast of Spain yesterday but he had to give up an attempt to go onto Gibraltar.

Dave Smith of San Francisco entered the water early yesterday at Punta Cires near Ceuta, Morocco. After 7½ hours he reached Punta Oliveiro to the east of Tarifa on the southernmost bulge of Spain's coastline. Gibralter is about 15 miles northwest.

Two British motor launches accompanied Smith, who was fed three times with soft drinks and syrup. Witnesses said he kept up a continuous crawl at the rate of about 60 strokes a minute and showed no signs of tiring. However, he complained of stomach cramps when he neared the coast in his struggle against adverse currents.

Bowlers Of Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—National bowler of the year awards will be presented to Dick Weber of St. Louis and Joy Abel of Chicago Thursday at the sixth annual awards dinner of the Metropolitan Bowling Writers Assn.

Rodgers Buick Champion

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — An unusually long putter and an unorthodox grip may have prompted a few snickers from the fans, but Phil Rodgers is $20,000 richer and leading the PGA money list today because of it.

Rogers shot four birdies and had only one bogey in two rounds yesterday as he took a two-stroke victory in the ninth annual $100,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament.

His rounds were 70-73-71-70—284.

The check which matched the one he collected for winning the Doral Open earlier this year, upped his winnings to $57,574.64.

It would take a lot more than that to convince Rodgers to junk either the 39½ inch putter or his pendulum swing.

"I think I might marry the putter," Rodgers said after his triumph. His 72-hole total of 284 was the highest winning score here since Bill Collins shot it in taking the 1962 tourney.

Rodgers' steady play—he finished with nine straight pars—proved the difference as third round leader Johnny Pott and Kermit Zarley were more erratic and settled for a tie for second place at 286.

It was the third second-place finish here for Pott.

Another stroke back were Fred Marti and Tony Lema. Lema charged into a first-place tie with Zarley during the final round but faltered in his quest for a third straight Buick Open title.

DOUBLE ROUND

Rodgers, a portly 5-foot-8, 170-pounder, admitted he was tired after the double round but said the fact that he was in contention made him forget about the pains in his legs. Leg cramps forced him to withdraw from the Memphis Open a week ago.

"I'll say one thing for playing 36 holes in one day," Rodgers offered. "If you are going well, it helps you keep up your momentum."

The double round was made necessary after the first round was rained out Thursday.

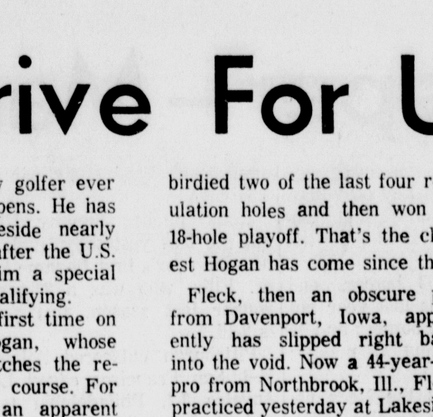
Rodgers qualified for this week's U.S. Open in San Francisco in a sectional qualifier at a Detroit area course Tuesday.

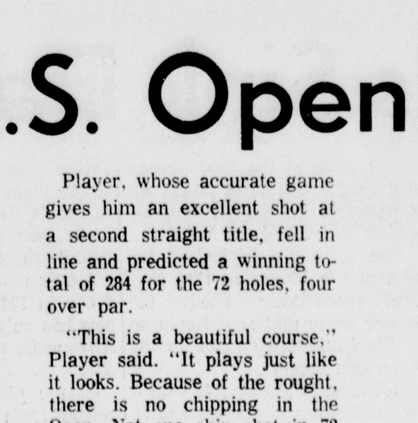
"I shot 66-77 there. "If I would have had to play one more round, I probobly would have shot an 88," Rodgers quipped.

"I thought the course played real long in the morning round," Rodgers said. "But I shouldn't complain. I was in fairway, and the only four fairways I missed came in the afternoon round."

"My par on the fifth hole in the final round, after I went into a bunker, gave me a big lift," he said.

"Lema birdied the hole, and I really needed it. I went on to get some pretty good putts the next few holes and birdied two of the last three."





WARMING UP FOR THE OPEN

Three former U.S. Open champions warm up in earnest for this year's tournament at the Larksside Course in San Francisco. They are Ben Hogan (top left), Jack Nicklaus (top right) and Gary Player (bottom). Player will be trying for a rare double in the tournament, which runs today through Sunday. (UPI Telephoto)

Giants Capture Series Finale

By RON BERGMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Juan Marichal remains in contention to become the first major league pitcher to win 30 games since 32 years ago.

The right-handed ace of the San Francisco Giants' staff won his 11th yesterday by beating Los Angeles 3-2 on four hits.

This pulled him even with the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax for most games won this year in the majors. It put him 12 days or three turns ahead of the pace set in 1934 by Dizzy Dean of the St. Louis Cardinals, the last 30 game winner.

The victory also moved the Giants to within four percentage points of the first-place Dodgers and almost guaranteed three capacity crowds for Chavez Ravine this weekend for the three-game series between the two traditional National League rivals.

The Dodgers and Giants drew 123,730 fans to Candlestick Park for the just-concluded series that ended the Giants' 35-dy hold on first place.

The gathering of 42,402 who showed up yesterday in sunny, warm but windy weather was the largest Candlestick crowd this season. They came to see last year's 22 - game winner, Marichal, battle Don Drysdale, who won 23.

Drysdale took his seventh loss in 11 decisions this year, although he pitched well enough to win most ball games.

However, he was up against Marichal, who now is 12-0 lifetime in Candlestick against the Dodgers.

"I like to pitch in this ball park," a smiling Marichal said afterward. "Despite the wind and the cold and everything else, I like to pitch here because I always feel strong.

"I come from a real hot country," said the Dominican. "But I don't like the real hot weather. I like it cooler."

The extent of the Dodger damage was solo home runs by Jim Lefebvre in the seventh and Lou Johnson in the ninth.

But Marichal, now 11-2, ended the game by striking out John Roseboro on a sharp-breaking curve that caught the Dodger catcher with his bat on his shoulder.

"I hope they forget over here and down there," Marichal said about the inter-city booing he and Roseboro are subjected to because of their bat-swinging altercation last Aug. 22.

"I know I'll never forget it."

Favored Reds Sink Deeper—Manager On Way Out?

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frank Robinson's absence makes the hearts of Cincinnati's opponents grow fonder, but it's not doing the Reds any good.

In fact, nothing is doing the Reds any good.

The National League's preseason pennant favorites sion to the New York Mets yesterday and now have lost 13 of their last 17 games, including three of four to the Mets this weekend.

Meanwhile, Reds manager Don Heffner was told yesterday there are rumors that he may resign.

"Rumors that I may resign?" he declared. "I never resign any job I've ever had in baseball."

Owner Bill DeWitt said several days ago the club is not considering firing Heffner, who took over as Reds' pilot at the end of the season when Dick Sisler was fired.

The Reds, who scored only seven runs in the four games, are lodged in eighth place, 9½ games from the top and only 1½ games in front of the Mets.

The Mets are typical of the rest of the league in that they are enthusiastic about the winter trade that sent Robinson to the Baltimore Orioles in the American League.

Robinson is hitting .340 wtih a league-leading 15 homers and 30 runs batted in for Baltimore.

The Reds don't have anyone hitting better than .293, and Deron Johnson, whose big season last year possibly convinced the Reds' front office that Robinson was expendable, is not helping much.

Johnson hit 32 homers and drove in 130 runs last year but now has only six homers and 12 RBI while batting a meager .216.

Of the players the Reds received from the Orioles, Dick Simpson is hitting .133, Milt Pappas has a 4-5 record with a 4.03 earned run average and Jack Baldschun is 1-4 with a 9.56 ERA.

Reds' pitcher Sammy Ellis got the loss yesterday, making him the year's first 10-game loser. Ellis, who was a 22-game winner last season, this year is 2-10.

Pittsburgh outscored Atlanta 11-8, San Francisco edged Los Angeles 3-2, Philadelphia topped St. Louis 5-3 and Houston spanked Chicago 8-4 in other N.L. action.

Ellis walked Ed Bressoud with one out in the 11th and issued an intentional pass to Ron Swoboda after a grounder moved Bressoud to second. Grote than came through with the winning hit to left.

Ron Hunt's bases-loaded double pulled the Mets even in the fifth after Johhny Edwards' run-producing double and Art Shamsky's homer staked the Reds to a 2-0 lead.

The Pirates exploded for five runs in the first inning and four more in the third, nullifying a pair of homers—including a grand slam—by Atlanta's Ed Mathews. Gene Alley touched off the first-inning burst with a homer and ignited a two-run rally in the eighth with a double.

Chris Short checked St. Louis on five hits and Bill White slugged a two-run homer as the Phillies ended the Cardinals' winning string at four. Short, beating the Cardinals for the sixth time in a row since May 20, 1965, ran his current record to 7-4.

Home runs by John Bateman, Rusty Staub and Dave Nicholson led the Astros past the Cubs. Staub and Nicholson connected in the sixth inning, when Houston scored six runs to wrap it up.

Dave Giusti weathered a two-run homer by Ron Santo on the way to his eighth victory against three setbacks.

Litchfields Cop Hot Pair, 4-0, 5-2

Litchfield's semi-pro baseballers swept both halves of a hot doubleheader from the Pacific Dodgers yesterday at Albert Field in San Rafael, winning the nine-inning opener 4-0 and the seven-inning nightcap 5-2.

The second game was abbreviated seven innings because of the 90-plus degree heat. The twin wins hike Litchfield's record to 22 wins in its last 24 games.

Frank Burch, former Marin Catholic star who pitched at USF before his recent graduation, was the winning hurler in the opener, giving up only one hit in his six innings of work. He struck out seven and walked only one before being relieved by Elroy Laughlin who continued the shutout while allowing only two hits.

Doug Wilson, another ex-Marin Catholic star, had a pair of singles and knocked across Litchfield's first run. Barry Krohn, the hot-hitting first baseman, continued his heavy stickwork with a two-run double to ice the game.

Dave Aldrich, University of California chucker, started the nightcap and gave up a two-run homer and ran into serious trouble in the third inning when he loaded the bases. Veteran southpaw Bob DeRosa, whose wife gave birth to a boy just a few days previous to yesterday's games, put out the fire when he struck out the side. He gave up only a single in the next four innings.

Doug Wilson again was vital with the bat, getting two hits and driving in two runs. John Dolinsek, Novato High School star, had a double, single and one RBI. Paul Giambra doubled across the two go ahead runs in the bottom of the fifth, breaking a 2-2 tie.

Manager Joe Anselmo feels the pitching on the San Rafael team is the strongest of any of his previous teams. The team will be entering the State Semi-Pro tourney later this month with four strong pitchers, right-handers Burch and Aldrich and southpaws DeRosa and Rich Nye.

NOVATO WATER SKI

Western Record By San Anselmo Youth

Mike Suyderhoud of San Anselmo jumped 117 feet to set a new boys western regional record at the fourth annual Novato Water Ski Championships held Saturday and yesterday at the Mira Monte Marina.

Suyderhoud, 16, missed the national record by only two feet. He made it a clean sweep in his division, also winning slalom, tricks and overall honors. Larry Penacho of San Diego, defending world's champ, was overall winner in the men's division.

Some 70 skiers from the Pacific Coast competed in the tourney, under clear, warm skies.

First place winners:

Junior Boys—Bob Boivie of Ignacio, overall, jump (82 feet), tricks. Chris Lapoint of Hayward, slalom.

Junior Girls—Lisa St. John of Fall River Mills, overall, jump (66 feet), slalom, tricks.

Boys—Mike Suyderhoud of San Anselmo, overall, jump (117 feet), slalom, tricks.

Girls—Sharon Boivie of Ignacio, overall slalom, tricks. Jean Denny of Novato, jump (86 feet).

Men—Larry Penacho of San Diego, overall, slalom, jump (141 fee). Tay Evans of Stockton, tricks.

Women—Stefanie Stevens of San Diego, overall, tricks, slalom, jump (64 feet).

Senior Men—Wally Pallack of Sunnyvale, overall, slalom. Al Fosini of Richmond, jump (84 feet). Jack Honberger of San Diego, tricks.

Senior Women—Bee Wineman of Novato, overall, slalom, jump (57 feet).

Other Marin County skiers who placed:

Carl Boivie of Ignacio, 2nd in Sr. Men's tricks; Frank Dembey of Terra Linda, 2nd in Jr. Boy's jump; Billy Maillet of Ignacio, 3rd in Boys tricks; Bob Miller of San Rafael, 2nd in men's jumping (106 feet).

John-John Taken To Wrestling

HONOLULU (AP) — John-John, son of the late President John F. Kennedy, went to a Sumo wrestling tournament yesterday and was given a bear hug by the 350-pound grand champion.

John Jr., escorted by two Secret Service men, sat through the matches and then went to the dressing rooms. He met grand champion Taiho, who picked up the boy in his arms.

In Japan, it is considered a blessing for good health when a Sumo wrestler picks up a child. Jacqueline Kennedy, who is vacationing for a month in Hawaii with her children, did not attend.

he said. "But I don't think the booing helps anything."

Tom Haller put the Giants into the lead they never lost by hitting Drysdale's first pitch of the fifth over the right-center field fence for his eighth homer.

After Tito Fuentes and Len Gabrielson started the sixth with singles and the slumping Willie Mays was out trying to bunt, manager Walt Alston brought in southpaw Nick Willhite to pitch to the left-handed Willie McCovey.

Willhite's first pitch was into the dirt and Fuentes scored.

Fuentes got a one-out single off Ron Perranoski in the eighth. The left-handed reliever then picked up Cap Peterson's pathetic roller down the third base line and threw it into right field for an error that allowed Fuentes to score what proved to be the winning run.

Except for the second when they loaded the bases, the Dodgers didn't mount any serious threats to Marichal. But a bad attack of what was diagnosed as heartburn almost got rid of him in the fourth inning.

Haller came from his catching position to suggest Marichal belch away the gas. And trainer Leo Hughes, who made the diagnosis, gave Juan two aspirins between innings.

Gaylord Perry (6-1), just off the disabled list because of an injured ankle, was to face the Chicago Cubs' Ernie Broglio (2-4) today.

WORLD MARK AT SACRAMENTO

Smith Steals Track Show

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tommy Smith took the headlines away from Jim Ryun in track and field over the weekend.

Smith, of San Jose State College, set a world record of 20 seconds flat for the 220-yard dash around a curve at the Sacramento Invitational championships Saturday night.

Ryun, of the University of Kansas, who set a world record for the half mile of 1:44.9 Friday, ran a modest 4:02.8 mile in the U.S. Track and Field Federation national meet at Terre Haute, Ind.

The previous Saturday Ryun had become the second fastest miler in the world with a 3:53.7 at Los Angeles, just one-tenth shy of the world mark of 3:53.6 held by Michel Jazy of France.

"I really didn't get off to a great jump, I've had better starts," Smith said after he had erased the mark of 20.2 set by Henry Carr of Arizona State in 1964.

PENDING RECORD

Smith, who is entered in the NCAA Championships at Bloomington, Ind. this weekend, ran the 220 on a straightway last month in 19.5, a pending world record.

Another highlight of the Saturday meet was a 235 feet, 10½ inches hammer throw by Guyla Zsivotsky of Hungary. The effort bettered the American record of 233-1½ by Hal Connolly of the Santa Monica Athletic Association in 1965. Zsivotsky holds the pending world mark of 241-11.

Connolly was second with 218-5.

Two Czechoslovakians, Ludvik Danek and Thomas Jugwarth, won their events. Jugwarth ran the 880 in 1:49.9, an effort that bettered the Pacific Assn. AAU mark of 1:50.1 set by James Groothoff in 1965.

Danek, who holds the world discus record of 211-9, came through with 196-1½.

J. C. RECORDS

Nine Pacific Association marks were shattered in addition to the world and national marks. Three junior college marks fell, the 440-yard dash, pole vault and 220.

Lee Evans of San Jose City College turned in a 440 time of 46.1 which broke his own record of 46.2. He ran the 220 in 21 flat. Pole vaulter Dennis Phillips of San Mateo went 16-8, to improve on the 16-5½ record set by Phillips and Dick Railsback this year.

Marie Mulder of the Washington Spikettes won the 1,500-meter run in 4:41.5 and took the women's 880 in 2:15.5.

Veteran Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., and 18-year-old Tim Danielson of Chula Vista, Calif., High School, shared honors at the San Diego invitational meet.

Grelle, voted the Athlete of the Night, won the mile in 3:55.4, the 20th time he has been under four minutes. Danielson finished fourth in 3.59.4, becoming the second high-schooler to break four minutes. Ryun was the first.

CANADIAN RECORD

Between Grelle and Danielson, were Neill Duggans of Hancock Junior College at Santa Maria, second in 3:56.1 and Dave Bailey of Toronto, third in 3:59.1. Bailey's time broke the Canadian record of 4:01.1 held by Ergas Leps.

Ron Clarke of Australia, after an arduous journey from Down Under, finished second to George Young in the 5,000 meters at San Diego. Young won in 13:40.2. Clarke was timed in 13:40.5.

Across the Atlantic, meantime, Jazy set a French record at Anzin, France, by winning the 2,000 meters yesterday in 5:01.4 compared to the world record of 5:01.2 held by Jose Odlozil of Czechoslovakia.

Jazy was primed to break the world record on Saturday, but rain forced a one day postponement of the race.

Hurlers In S.R. Youth Limelight

Two opening day winners will be looking for their second straight win in the San Rafael Youth Baseball League when Burgar Construction meets the Rotary Sons at 6 o'clock and Conti Plumbing takes on United Market at 8 at Albert Park tonight.

Pitchers had it pretty much their own way on opening day Saturday. Ken Lazzarini hurled a three-hitter and drove in two runs to lead Conti to a 4-1 win over the Jaycees and Roger Thomas picked up the win for Burgar in a 4-2 win over United Market.

Jerry Goodrick of the Terra Linda Athletics out-hurled Denny Taylor of the Rotary Native Sons for a 1-0 victory, although Taylor allowed only two hits, in Saturday's other opener.

San Rafael Gal Runnerup In Powder Puff Race

Clair Howard of San Rafael came close but had to settle for second place in the hilarious Powder Puff Derby at the Petaluma Fairgrounds Saturday.

Mike Kennedy of San Rafael finished second to San Jose's Lyle Lister in the trophy dash of the regular hardtop races. Kennedy also won the fourth heat and Jim Giubbini of Novato took third in the same heat.

Sohner also swept a doubleheader on Saturday, dumping the San Quentin Prison inmates, 7-2, 3-0.

Both shutouts were fashioned by Morey Swarm. The talented righthander blanked San Quentin on one hit and ten scattered three safeties in last night's North Coast Traveling League second game.

The twin wins valuted Sohner past San Mateo into third place in the six-team NCTL with a 6-6 record.

The Treemen made only one error in the four games.

Laver Beats Fellow Aussie In Forest Hills Net Final

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Rod Laver won the $30,500 invitational professional round-robin tennis tournament yesterday by defeating Ken Rosewall, his Australian countryman, 31-29, in the final.

A crowd of 6,000 saw the windup of the five-day tournament at the West Side Tennis Club in which Laver was unbeaten in 10 matches for first prize money of $5,670.

The touring tennis pros will be at Peacock Gap Beach Club in San Rafael for the same kind of tournament June 22 through 26. Prize money for that one will be $20,000.

The match, played under the VASSS scoring system, climaxed yesterday's final round robin between Laver, Rosewall, Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles and Andres Gimeno of Spain.

Ex-Davis Cupper Petrovic Cops National Title At Mill Valley

For a fellow who's been minding the store, Vladimir Petrovic is in pretty good shape. Ask Joe Woolfson.

Petrovic defeated Woolfson in straight sets, 6-3, 8-6, to take the National Men's 35 Hard Court Singles title at the Mill Valley Tennis Club yesterday.

Petrovic, a former Yugoslavvian Davis Cup star who now lives in Los Angeles, won this tournament in 1964, but had to skip last year when his business partner fell ill and Petrovic had to "mind the store."

Petrovic was showing no ill effects in the tournament. He swept into the finals against Woolfson by streaking past Bob Tout, Dr. Steve Voydat, Elston Wyatt and Clint Arbuckle without losing a set.

It was strictly an unseeded affair in the doubles finals where Merrill Ehmke and Milt Richardson took the title by downing John and Rupe Ricksen, 7-5, 5-7, 6-3.

The champions had turned in a shocker Saturday by knocking off the top-seeded team of Arbuckle and Woolfson, 6-3, 36-6, 11-9.

Top-seeded John Cassell went all the way to down Merv Luhman, 10-8, 6-2, for the Mill Valley Club's Men's 55 singles championships while Gerald Stratford and Howard Blethen rocked top-seeded John Delantoni and Eary Kissinger, 6-2, 6-2, for the doubles title.

Woolfson, of Hayward, won the tournament's sportsmanship award in balloting by players and spectators.

Ed Roebuck Sold By Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Relief pitcher Ed Roebuck was purchased by the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday from their San Diego farm club.

The 34-year-old veteran had a 5-3 record and a 3.42 earned run average in 44 games last season for the Phillies who must drop a man from the roster to make room for him.

Market Shuts Higher During Brisk Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today as it continued a brisk rally into the second straight session.

As in Friday's session, blue chips joined the familiar high-flyers in electronics, airlines and aerospace to make a well-rounded advance.

Prices were higher from the start. The list survived two waves of profit taking and emerged with a substantial gain.

Motors, nonferrous metals and a number of the key chemicals, untilities, rails and oils gave broad scope to the rally. The familiar high-flyers in color television, electronics, aerospace and airlines also rose.

Eastern Air Lines, up about 3, looked like fhte volume leader.

General Motors rose more and American Motors fractions. American Telephone, up about a point, resumed Friday's sharp recovery. Du Pont spurted nearly 3 points.

Up about 4 were Braniff and KLM Airlines, Corning Glass and Gulf and Western preferred.

Ahead 2 or more were Dlta Airlines, Kellogg, Motorola, Northwestern Airlines, Scovill Manufacturing, Storer Broadcasting, White Consolidated, SCM and Barber Oil.

Sanders Associated jumped 4 points on a report of greatly increased sales.

McGraw Edison dipped ½ to 31¾ on a block of 33,000 shares.

Residents of Marin made approximately 425,000 calls each day during 1965 from PT&T telephones, a 48 per cent increase over the 288,000 calls they made each day in 1960, the company said.

The report includes Belvedere, Corte Madera, Ignacio, Inverness, Mill Valley, Nicasio, Point Reyes, San Rafael, Sausalito, Stinson Beach-Bolinas and Tomales exchanges. It does not include the Novato area serviced by Western California Telephone Co.

The number of PT&T telephones in the County also rose by 48 per cent, going from 69,000 to 102,000 during the same five-year period.

Pacific said it had 692 employees in Marin County at the end of last year with an estimated payroll of $4.2 million.

Tax payments on property totaled over $1.4 million, a 57 per cent increase over the payment of nearly $900,000 made five years ago.

Urban Funds Granted

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The federal government has increased by $2.7 million its contribution to the 45-acre Custom House urban renewal project in Monterey. The new grant increases federal funds to $7.2 million of the $15 million project.

Levitt Builders Tell Banner Year

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—Record sales and higher earnings were recorded by Levitt and Sons, Inc., international homebuilders, for the fiscal year ended Feb. 28.

Sales totaled a new industry high of $74,462,000—a 24 per cent increase from gross sales of $60,031,000 for the previous year.

At the same itme, the corporation's annual report revealed after-tax profit reached $3,254,000, or $1.06 a share. This is a 25 per cent increase over the previous year's figure of $2,588,000, or 85 cents a share.

As a result of widespread concern over the tight money market and its dampening effect on the homebuilding industry, the company included with its report a special addendum commenting on the situation:

"Although our fiscal 1967 program has been increased substantially, all mortgage money required to complete the program has been secured."

Levitt currently has eight regional operations—six in the Eastern United States, and others in Puerto Rico and France.

"I had no instructions or messages," Bohlen said. "I just came over for a general discussion of the over-all world situation."

Firemen Plagued By False Alarms

False alarm, plagued the San Rafael Fire Department during the weekend. Five were turned in, including two at 9:38 p.m. Saturday.

Those were at Locust and Grand Avenues and at 1735 Lincoln Avenue. Four hours and eight minutes later, at 1:46 a.m. yesterday, another was turned in at Manderly and San Pedro Roads. The fourth was rung at 6:17 p.m. yesterday, again at Locust and Grand, and the fifth was turned in at 3:05 a.m. today at Golden Hind Boulvard and Los Ranchitos Road.

Bolinas Channel Campaign Gets New Help From Rescue

Bolinas Rod and Boat Club members are asking the U.S. Corps of Engineers to give another look at Bolinas Lagoon as a proposed safe harbor of refuge after hearing how the harbor—without adequate clearance at the channel—helped save a man's life and boat.

C. M. Thornton, Santa Rosa commercial fisherman, limped into the lagoon Thursday. He said his commercial fishing Trimaran, Taibela, struck an abandoned floating bridge piling off Duxbury Reef.

The piling stove a hole in the vessel's port pontoon. Fortunately the tide was high, Thornton told club president Archie Goldsberry, and the fisherman made it into the lagoon. With aid from Bolinas residents, he patched up his craft and was to leave port today.

"During the process of gaining entrance," Thornton said, "My boat in a sinking condition ran aground twice with the serious possibility of loss of my boat as well as my life."

Goldsberry said the statement is being sent to the Corps of Engineers and the Bolinas Harbor District Commission. The Corps declared May 6 that improvements are not recommended on Bolinas Channel and Lagoon.

The California Highway Patrol reported Elster was driving south on Highway 101. Elster said he must have dozed at the wheel, highway patrol officers reported. He refused treatment, officers said.

Loma Verde Master Plan On City List

The Novato Planning Commission will consider amendments to the Loma Verde master plan when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Hector Rubini is asking rezoning from planned residential to limited business or retail commercial of 13 acres on Ignacio Boulevard and Highway 101. Marin Master Builders have submitted a tentative map of Hidden Horse Canyon subdivision of 79 lots on 25 acres adjacent to Marin Golf and Country Club Estates. Shell Oil Co. asks a permit for a service station at De Long Avenue and Highway 101.

Ike's Grandson Hears Him Talk

EXETER, N.H. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower told graduates of Phillips Exeter Academy yesterday that no sound foundation for life can be built by accident.

"Only through knowledge can you recognize and begin selecting and shaping the stones you need. . .knowledge acquired by formal education and by observation, absorption, trial and error," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower's grandson, David, was among the 241 graduates.

Burglars Invade Union Offices

Two union offices at 637 Lindaro Street, San Rafael, were entered at 12:25 a.m. today and $30 in cash stolen from one.

The burglars were frightened away as police arrived, summoney by burglar alarms in the offices of Machinists' Lodge Local 238 and Carpenters' Union Local 35.

There was no sign of forced entry, but inside locked office doors had been forced with carpenter's tools found at the scene. Both offices were ransacked and money taken from the carpenters union.

Dixie Police Guard Interracial March

ENID, Miss. (UPI) —The white girl lay with her head resting on the lap of a Negro youth. The state troopers plainly did not like it.

But it didn't deter them from their duty to protect the group of 200 Negroes, with a few whites, during the "Mississippi Freedom March," which entered its ninth day today.

The girl and the Negro had been holding hands as they marched yesterday into Yalobusha County, considered "one of the roughest counties in the state." They lounged on the grass with the other marchers during a rest break in the field of a Negro sharecropper.

The troopers made a pretense of ignoring the sprawling marchers. But they were instantly alert when a white farmer rushed out of his house across the road, shouting "I'm gonna git them damn niggers out of here."

He said he owned the land being farmed by a Negro tenant. But troopers told him to calm down, go back into his house and ignore the marchers. The farmer took their advice.

The hikers covered only about six miles yesterday before pitching camp for the night by the earthen dam on Enid Lake. A group of about 80 left the main body and walked about five miles down U.S. 51, urging Negro listeners to register to vote.

Earlier, King had preached at the funeral in Marks, 30 miles away, for Armstead Phipps, a Negro who died of a heart attack while marching Thursday.

King said Phipps and Medger Evers, a Negro leader who was shot to death by a sniper three years ago Sunday in Jackson, died for the same reason. "They died fighting for freedom," he said.

Joel McCrea's Divorce Dropped

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— Actor Joel McCrea and his wife, former actress Frances Dee, have reconciled, a spokesman for the couple said today.

Their marriage of 32 years was considered one of the film colony's happiest until McCrea, 60, filed a divorce suit last April 12 in Ventura.

Until then, Miss Dee, 59, and McCrea had made their home on a ranch in the Tierra Rejada area of Ventura County. Most of the ranch land had been sold for subdivision, but McCrea retained the original home they have occupied since their marriage.

The actor had charged cruelty in his complaint. He and Miss Dee have three sons, Joel D. (Jodie) McCrea, 31, an actor; David T. McCrea, 30, a rancher in Montana, and Peter McCrea, 11, at home.

You Can Win — Enter Now!

Send in your estimate of the number of news stories "favorable" to young people (under 21 years of age) which will be published during June in the Independent-Journal. "Favorable" stories are those which report any and all activities of young people which may be considered constructive and from which no inference may be drawn that the activity or behavior reported is harmful to the young people involved or to society. (As opposed, for example, to delinquency).
Stories may cover every aspect of community life: education, cultural activities, jobs, social affairs, athletics, clubs, travel, hobbies, politics, business, careers, vacation activities, meetings, conferences, college plans, etc. Note: the Independent-Journal will report the normal run of such activities throughout the month of June.

PANEL OF CONSULTANTS TO AID

News stories will be reviewed for content and evaluation by a panel composed of:

- VIRGIL S. HOLLIS, Marin County Superintendent of Schools
- PAUL MILLER, Instructor in Journalism, College of Marin
- MRS. LILLIAN SEAVER, Lecturer in Journalism, English Dept., Dominican College
- EDWARD J. NEUMEIER, Coordinator of Public Information, Tamalpais Union High School District

Marked copies of the Independent-Journal showing the evaluation of each news story will be on public display following completion of the contest.

A FEW SIMPLE RULES

1. Contest open to everyone — all ages
2. Two prize groups for adults and young people under 21.
3. Only one entry per person allowed.
4. Use Contest Entry blank shown here.
5. Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight, Tuesday, June 21.
6. In case of ties, first postmarked entries win. Decisions of judges final.
7. I-J employees and families not eligible.

A FEW OBSERVATIONS ON THE CONTEST

The Independent-Journal and the panel of consultants recognize that evaluation of what is "favorable" or "unfavorable" in a news story constitutes an opinion. Some stories undoubtedly will appear controversial; others may lie within a neutral "gray" zone. In the main, however, the great bulk of stories fall within the familiar bounds of what society as a whole considers either favorable or unfavorable. Every attempt will be made to apply reasonable interpretations. Determinations by the panel will be final.

The board's meeting will start at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The Marincello matter will be discussed at 2 p.m.

Also before the board tomorrow is the application for federal funds on county park development. The applications, made under the federal Land and Water Conservation Act, ask $250,990 for land purchase and development of Stafford Lake, $17,250 for purchase of land at Nicasio Lake, and $89,250 for development there, $95,500 for development of the Deer Park-Phoenix Lake area, $43,250 for purchase and development of Paganini Point.

The county does not have matching funds needed for all these projects, but the applications are being filled now to meet the July 1 federal deadline, with the understanding the projects may be delayed.

If approved, the federal money would not be available until 1967-68.
